Halloween Howl offers ghostly good time for the family

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

For a spookingly good time head to downtown Antioch for Halloween Howl this weekend

Halloween Howl is coming Oct. 25, 26 and promises to be even bigger and better. There will be plenty of spooks, entertainment and family fun planned in this free event. Festivities are planned Oct. 25, 4-10 p.m., and Oct. 26, 1-6 p.m.

"We had some complaints from parents and grandparents who took children to haunted houses and the children were having nightmares," said Claude LeMere, downtown development director. "We wanted something that was fun for all folks."

Thus Halloween Howl was created three years ago. About 5,000 people a day attend the event, according to LeMere.

For people 13 and over, come to the "Tunnel of Terror" sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees. The tunnel will have a series of spooky areas. You must enter through the "Tunnel of Snakes" and exit through the "Tunnel of Rats."

Included in the fun is the Happy Ghosts and Happy Haunted Graveyard. These are the children's areas designed for fun and not for fear. The Smiling Spirits at Ben Franklin store offers a moonwalk as well.

"The Village of Antioch welcomes everyone to come and have a good time with us," LeMere said.

The event is designed to promote a safe See HOWL page A10

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

When you talk about sewers in unincorporated Antioch Township, you draw a crowd.

An estimated 150 people attended a United Homeowners Associations of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) meeting to listen to results of a Lake County study on sewers for the unincorporated areas. Officials were pleased with what they felt was a positive reaction to the study to the point they will vigorously pursue sewers further.

"It's time to let the people decide," declared Judi Martini, Antioch's county board member.

Martini is going to the Lake County State's Attorney's office to find out what is the next step. She said she would favor an April referendum bid to create a special service area.

Carol Jonites, president of UHAUA, said residents seemed to accept the numbers. Their main concern was over development and timing.

"They were concerned with over development but with 1,700 units that See SEWER page A10

Museum offers bridge to past

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

For those who want to know more about past in their little corner of the world there is no better place than the Lakes Area Museum.

The museum offers everything from an early 1900s classroom to a Victorian Room, early transportation, Indian artifacts and a resource area.

"It's a way to give people a chance to see what it used to be like to live in the area," said Director Bob Lindblad. "We have a lot of memories."

On the second floor is an authentic Victorian Room with furnishings from the 1880s and 1890s era. Complete with clothes, couches and drapes.

Bob Lindblad

"We worked on this for quite a while and got many items donated," Lindblad said.

The building itself is historic. It was one of the few school houses in the area. It was erected in 1892.

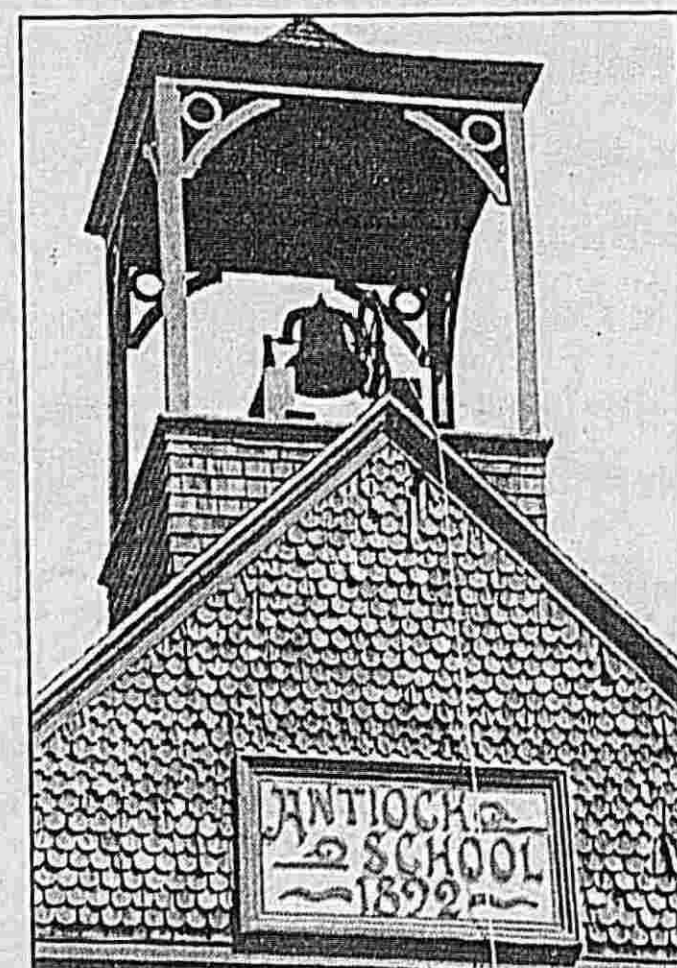

"It was the elementary school and the high school until the high school was built in 1915," Lindblad said.

One room features a changing exhibit relating to the time of the year. Currently, volunteers are preparing a veterans exhibit in honor of Veterans Day.

The displays range from Civil War to the Vietnam War. Some of the items include a ration book from World War II, a draft list from 1940, uniforms, soldier pictures and a B-17 engineering book.

The room changes for a Christmas exhibit and a history of area resorts. See PAST page A10

Ask DON GARLITS

Cars need proper care to prevent premature failure

Q. Our 1989 Jeep 4 by 4 has a little over 60,000 miles on it. In the last year, I have noticed oil being drawn into the carburetor and air cleaner. I have replaced the PCV valve and checked the vacuum lines for leaks. Both air shutters are operative to the distributor. The service manager from Jeep/Eagle says he can't say offhand what it could be. I've had some expensive experiences with this dealer and can't afford to give it to them to experiment with or let them install a new engine.—Clarence S.

A. Considering the relatively low mileage on your 4 by 4, I am assuming you are using it under heavy conditions. While the vehicle is designed for heavy use, if you don't give it proper care you will experience what I call premature failure. Infrequent oil changes will ultimately lead to the conditions you describe. If all the equipment you replaced is functioning properly, especially the PCV, your engine is probably in need of a valve job, with new valve seals and quite possibly a new set of rings. All of this does add up to a tidy sum.

Because you say oil is being drawn into the air cleaner, I am convinced the problem is major. I would suggest a good independent garage for this, as the dealer will want to install a new engine. It's important to find a reputable person with a history of honesty and service, who will give a written guarantee of his work. You don't want to rebuild the engine and be plagued with the same problem. If the mechanic hasn't given you a written guarantee, he can throw up his hands and say he did all he could—after you've poured the bucks into the truck!

Q. I have a 1990 Nissan and recently, after a tune-up, I was told I might have to replace the timing belt. I was also informed that the manufacturer recommends the head be pulled and the valves cleaned, which would cost about $1,000. Does this sound right to you? My mileage is 60,000.—Bob K.

A. If that price includes the timing belt change and retune, I think it would be about right for your area. The valve cleaning is the big one, though. They will probably use a blasting system that removes the carbon, which has no doubt built up on the back side of the valves where the fuel is sprayed on for combustion. This is especially necessary if you are noticing a lack of power and stalling. To keep this buildup from recurring, you should use high quality detergent fuel (though not necessarily high octane). A good fuel supplement would also be a good idea.

Q. I have been using spray carburetor cleaner/varnish removers on my cars for years in between engine tune-ups. I was recently told by a mechanic I could be doing more harm than good. Is this true?—Craig L.

A. Maybe so, maybe not. If your car is fuel-injected or contains any of the newer emissions-monitoring systems, some of the chemicals could hurt those systems' ability to function properly.

For years, I would add transmission fluid to gasoline for added lubrication. Well, the fuel-injected systems can't tolerate this. The various sensors that monitor and adjust fuel delivery are affected and can cause a rash of problems with your engine's performance.

If you've got standard carburetion, however, I'd like to know what your mechanic can describe as potentially harmful.

What to do in case of an accident

Odds are nearly one in 10 that you or someone you know will be involved in an accident this year. While some accidents involve other cars and extensive damage, most are major fender-benders. Regardless of the damage done or the cars involved, your reaction in an accident is important.

To ensure your own safety and protection, you need to react quickly and correctly at the time of an accident, getting the right information from the right people.

What to do:

1. Turn off your vehicle's engine and leave it where it is if you feel it is safe to do so. If you feel threatened, or your car is in danger of being hit by another car, slowly drive to a place where you feel safe, such as the side of the road or a well-lit parking lot.

2. Keep calm.

3. Are you injured? Assess the amount of impact and judge to what degree you may be hurt. If you think you're injured, stay in your car and try to relax. Be honest if anyone asks how you are. Ask someone to call for help and let a professional assess your condition.

4. Assess your situation. When examining the possible damage to your vehicle, NEVER walk directly between the two cars—if one is hit again, you could be trapped between the two vehicles.

5. Provide the medical help to others only if you are trained to do so.

6. Call the police. Dial 911 (*999 on cellular phone) first. If that doesn't work, dial 0 and ask for the police.

7. Don't say the accident was your fault, even if you believe it was.

8. Be tactful and courteous, even if you're angry.

9. Get the names, address and phone numbers of any witnesses. If you can't get their names, at least get their license plate number.

10. Exchange names, addresses, license numbers and insurance information with any other drivers involved in the accident.

11. Know where you want to get the damage to your vehicle repaired. You're more likely to get a good repair if you take your car to a shop that displays a logo for one of these associations:

I-CAR: The Inter-Industry Conference on Collision Repair offers the latest in technical training. If a facility is I-CAR Gold Class, then 80 percent of its technical staff is I-CAR trained.

ASE: If a facility is Automotive Service Excellence certified, the store's technicians have passed stringent tests and are fully qualified to repair your vehicle.

According to Thomas Rowe, owner of Casten Auto Body in Lake Zurich, individuals should also look for a repair center that offers extra services like claims handling assistance, towing or free pick up and delivery. If the collision repair staff provides excellent service to its customers, that is a good indication of the quality of work that will be performed to their vehicle.

Casten Auto Body in Lake Zurich is a part of CARSTAR Automotive, the nation's largest collision repair franchise. Founded in 1989, CARSTAR is comprised of conversion franchises, start-up facilities and corporate-owned stores.

CARSTAR repair centers are independently owned and operated and they must maintain strict requirements concerning quality of work, training and customer satisfaction. Contact Casten Body Shop, Inc. at 438-3030.

Town pay trimmed $5,000 for next year

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township trustees actually slashed salaries about $5,000 next year with massive pay cuts to the supervisor and the clerk.

The supervisor pay will drop from $51,688 to $44,000 while the clerk's salary was trimmed from $19,000 down to $12,050. The $12,000 figure reported last week was incorrect. Trustee pay could stay the same or go up.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce contends there won't be any special meetings next year or in the foreseeable future. If so, trustee salaries were frozen at $175 a meeting for 13 meetings or $2,275.

"There has been one special meeting in 3 and a half years," Skvarce said. "And that was for the riverboat."

Taking a different view are Township Supervisor Jim Fields and Trustee Tim Osmond. Both feel possible federal welfare reforms will eventually place the burden of welfare administration on the states, and will force townships to take the administrative role and thus create the need for special meetings.

If there are more than 13 meetings a year, the salary would go up by $175 for each additional meeting.

No reason was given for the reduction in the supervisor pay. However, the clerk pay was lowered when Richard Harlan, town clerk, told trustees the position now requires less work because of computerization.

Receiving increases were the assessor and highway commissioner. Board members noted the assessor has one of the most parcels of any of his counterparts. The assessor was raised from $40,976 to $44,000 a year in 1997. The highway commissioner was raised from $61,282 to $63,733.

With the pay reductions and pay raises, the net decrease in salaries amounts to $5,117 next year.

Park board affirms what they're all about

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

For the first time Antioch Park and Recreation Board has a mission statement outlining what they are about and what they hope to accomplish.

The mission statement reads: "To enhance the quality of life for the residents of the village of Antioch by providing recreational opportunities, park facilities and preserving open space."

The mission statement reads:
'To enhance the quality of life for the residents of the village of Antioch by providing recreational opportunities, park facilities and preserving open space.'

"We will use it as a planning guide as we plan parks and programming," said Cheryl McCameron, park department director.

The park board has considered the statement for a long time but never seemed to get around to putting it down on paper.

"We set it aside to discuss other issues and put it on the back burner," McCameron said.

The statement encompasses what the park board is trying to accomplish.

In other business, the board is considering pool improvements at Williams Park Pool. The board is pondering adding a small water slide.

"There is space where the high dive was removed," McCameron said. McCameron said the board studied adding a larger corkscrew slide, but found it would require 24 feet of water for the sliders and the pool is only 35 feet wide.

Another possibility is sprucing up the children's pool.

Neither of the two options have been approved and are only in the discussion stages now.

Maze back for safe, curious family fun

Antioch Evangelical Free Church is again offering Halloween fun with a tricky human maze.

Rather than complain about teens getting into trouble, rather than bemoan the lack of fun and safe alternatives for kids with time and energy on their hands, rather than parents feeling they have no option to scary ghosts, some creative teens came up with a positive activity all family members could enjoy.

The Third Annual Maze is this week, planned, built and run by Scandal for Christ, the Youth Group at the church.

"Three autumn seasons ago Antioch sophomore James Groleau convinced church leaders to allow teens the freedom of filling an entire gym with ramps and cardboard boxes," said Debbie Davis, maze coordinator. "The idea seemed preposterous — but parents figured it would keep teens busy and out of trouble so we went along with it."

The first maze drew 1,080 participants while last year it drew 1,400 of the curious.

"Last year a care-worn father arrived with two red-eyed grade schoolers in tow. They had just come from a haunted house that left his youngsters in tears. A church teen was assigned to escort his children through the tunnels, and some 30 minutes later, two bubbling faces were begging dad for 'just one more time please,' Davis said.

At peak times when the wait seems terminal, a good reminder is Great America's coasters last about a minute after an hour in line. Here, the wait is always less than that, and even the maze Houdini doesn't emerge in less than 20 minutes.

Perhaps the biggest revelation to church leaders is that adults are enjoying this as much as the youth.

Event times are: Oct. 24-25 6-9 p.m., Oct. 26-27 4-6 p.m. lights on, and 6-9 p.m. lights out. Cost is $2 per person and donations are appreciated. The maze is located at the church, 750 Highview Drive.

Sponsors for the maze include Ace Hardware, Red Banks Resort, True Value Hardware, Baskin Robbins and Dunkin Donuts.

The Antioch Evangelical Free Church Maze will be open Oct. 24-25, 6-9 p.m.; Oct. 26-27, 4-6 p.m. lights on and 6-9 p.m. lights out. Cost is $2 per person and donations are appreciated. The maze is located at the church, 750 Highview Drive.

Antioch studies drainage concerns

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees are working with the developer of the Woods of Antioch to resolve drainage concerns for residents who abut the subdivision.

The board approved the first two phases of the project located on Tiffany Drive south of North Avenue, and in two weeks make a decision on how to address drainage issues. They also are interested in having a berm lowered as well.

"We want to get this done but we only want to do this once," said Steve Thelen of KLM development.

Trustees expressed interest in lowering the berm as soon as possible.

Thelen cautioned if he lowered the berm there could be flood risks because there is no vegetation to slow the flow of rain water. He said most of the problems were related to utility lines which left a ridge causing standing water.

Bob Silhan, director of planning and zoning, said erosion control measures could be implemented that would prevent erosion and allow the work to be done now.

Trustee Taso Maravelas questioned who will maintain the berm and ensure the grass is cut.

"There was no one there to cut the grass," Maravelas said. "The grass was 3 to 4 feet high."

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said she thought the berm was to be lowered immediately. "The residents want it done," she said

Emmons students excel in state tests

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Emmons School students were once again well above state averages in all categories according to the state report card.

Student Illinois Goal Assessment Placement test scores are all within a similar range as last year, according to Superintendent Matt Tabar.

"Where the students tested is gratifying and tells us we are where we want to be," Tabar said.

The IGAP test is taken statewide. All the schools are measured against the average score of the schools combined.

The highest scores were in reading. Fourth-graders' score of 275 was 26 points ahead of the state average of 249. Eighth-graders averaged 294, 56 points higher than the state score of 238.

Fourth grade science scores were at 296 compared with the state mean of 250. Seventh grade science average was 34 points above the state score.

Math, social science and writing were all slightly above the state numbers.

Emmons officials use the test as another gauge along with other tests and assessment tools to determine how well students are learning.

"It does show students are learning and progressing well," Tabar said.

He cautioned people who study the scores to be aware Emmons numbers can fluctuate more than a larger school because there are fewer students taking the test. The smaller numbers can skew the average higher or lower than a bigger district.

Each year students are tested on their knowledge of math, reading, social studies, science and writing.

In other business, the board is working to clarify a few remaining items with the school addition. These minor items are expected to be completed by the contractor in a few weeks.

The board also is going out to bid to replace aging tiles in the school's older section with a linoleum based product. If the bids are acceptable, the board is likely to approve the work at next month's board meeting, according to Tabar.

WHAT ARE CROWNS?

When a tooth is fractured, has a large, old filling, or is severely damaged by decay, your dentist may recommend the placement of a crown, or cap. Crowns strengthen and protect the remaining tooth structure and can improve the appearance of your smile. Types of crowns include the full porcelain crown, the porcelain-fused-to-metal crown and the all-metal crown. The fabrication of a crown requires at least two visits to the dentist's office.

Initially, the dentist:

- Removes decay and shapes the tooth.
- Makes an impression.
- Makes and fits a temporary or transitional crown of plastic or metal.

In a subsequent visit, the dentist:

- Removes the temporary, fits and adjusts the final crown. Cements the crown into place.

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees will continue studying the possibility of installing additional crosswalks at the intersection of Rte. 83 and North Avenue.

Trustees are concerned with pedestrian safety as the intersection gets more and more traffic. Trustees asked John Boldt, village engineer, to study how much it would cost for the crosswalks and traffic signal changes.

Boldt reported it would cost $13,000. The village would have to obtain approval from the state since Rte. 83 is a state highway and from the county because North Avenue is a county road.

"We are trying to get them to waive the engineering cost," Boldt said. "Any electrical contractor can do it."

He noted the engineering could cost $4,000. He also suggested providing just two crosswalks which trustees rejected.

"Let's just do it right the first time," stressed Trustee Marvin Oldenburger.

Trustees agreed to have Boldt contact the county to see if the engineering fee could be waived so they can make a decision at the next board meeting.

Boldt said only the cross walks would require good weather. The wiring could be done at any time of the year.

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Clean-up and inspection efforts continue this week at the under construction Woodland Middle School where a wall collapsed and injured one worker.

Electricity has been restored to the area. Gages Lake school district officials believe the setback should not delay opening of the 2,000 student schools set for August, 1997.

"We are fortunate in that we have time to recover. Frederick Quinn has assured us that they will bend over backward to get this completed. There will be separate workers and a separate superintendent for the site," Will Olson of Arcon architects said.

Occupational Health and Safety Admin. and engineers from the general contractor's insurance companies are inspecting the area to try and determine cost and cause.

The debris from the accident was expected to be picked up on Wednesday at the site at Almond Road and Washington Street.

One board member asked if there would be significant cost for reconstruction.

"We met with the insurance companies twice. We should know more by the end of the week," Dr. Dennis Conti, superintendent, said.

The wall collapsed, injuring one worker.

A 49-year old pipe fitter from Antioch, Anita Kratz, was treated for injuries and released from St. Therese Medical Center following the Oct. 11 incident.

The accident took place around 2:15 p.m. and no other workers were involved. The school board later sent her family flowers.

Frederick Quinn Construction is the general manager for the middle school. The school was on schedule to be ready for the 1997-98 school year.

"We feel fortunate only one worker was injured," MaryJo Przygoda, school district spokesperson, said.

Officials from the owners representative, Viking Construction, echoed that statement at a school board meeting.

McGrath said it was too early to speculate as to cause of the accident. Neighbors said they did not hear anything unusual from the industrial arts area where the accident occurred.

There was no extrication needed of the victim, as she was assisted by fellow employees. Utilities were shutdown and the Almond and Washington St. site was turned over to the company three hours later.

OSHA regulations require notification within eight hours of an incident if three or more people are injured.

Police BEAT

ANTIOCH Arrested for DUI

David Carden, 17, 36441 Lannon, Ingleside, on Oct. 19, was arrested for driving under the influence. He was stopped for speeding. He had a blood alcohol level.

Ryan Coskey, 25, 915 1/2 Main, on Oct. 16, was arrested for driving under the influence. He was found at an accident. He had a blood alcohol reading of .21.

Bobby Stotts, 35644 Ward, Ingleside, on Oct. 16, was arrested for driving under the influence. Stotts was stopped for a driving infraction. Stotts failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Arrested for driving offense

Durand Mauch, 29, 419 Donin Drive, Antioch Apt. 202, on Oct. 17, was arrested for driving with a suspended license. He was stopped for not signaling on a turn and was found to have a suspended license.

LAKE VILLA

Watch the car wash

Lake Villa police were called to the Shell car wash where a vehicle was stuck in the car wash. The driver of the vehicle asserted she was listening to the radio when the automatic machine pulled her vehicle off the track and struck the equipment. There was damage to the left fender and to the car wash equipment.

Arrested for driving offense

Michael McCue, 35, 1613 Oak, Round Lake Beach, on Oct. 16, was arrested for driving with a suspended drivers license and improper lane usage. He was stopped for improper lane usage and was found to have a suspended license.

LINDENHURST

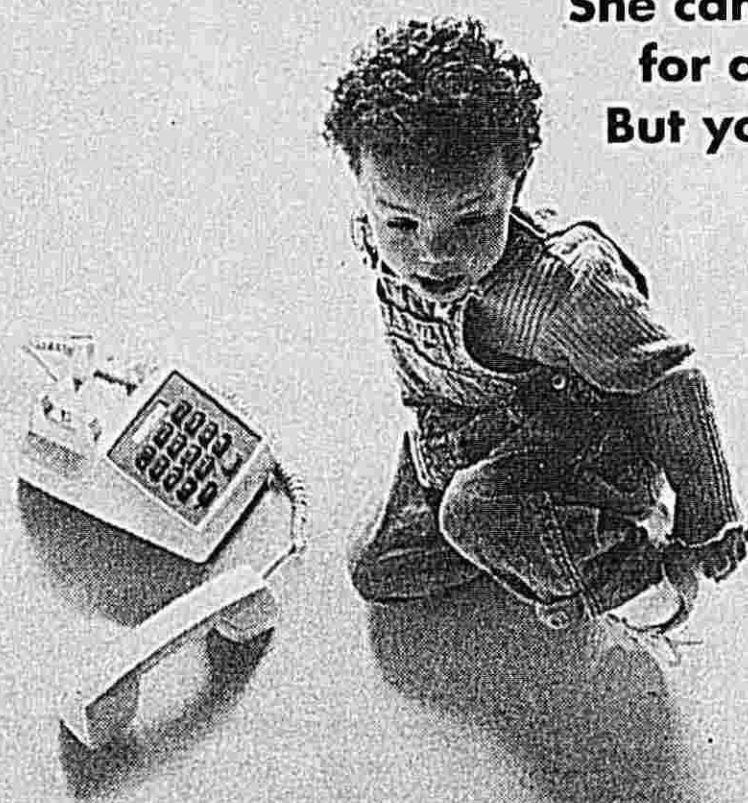

Arrested for possession

John Gilles, 19056 Grand, Lake Villa, on Oct. 18, was arrested for possession of a controlled substance, possession of marijuana, driving under the influence and illegal transportation of alcohol. He was stopped for having no license plates. A small amount of what is believed to be marijuana and cocaine in his vehicle and in his pockets.

House catches fire

A house at 2242 Thornwood, on Oct. 20, received damage to attic and roof. The fire appears to have been started by an ember from the fireplace escaping the chimney and igniting the attic area. Lindenhurst Police and Lake Villa Township Fire Department were able to contain the blaze.

Even quarterbacks don't feel this much pressure

Well the on-going rivalry in the Anderson family between the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears has just extended down to another generation. On Oct. 4, Toni and Greg Anderson became the proud parents of Devin Ronald Anderson, who weighed in at six pounds three ounces and 19 1/2 inches tall. Not exactly the stuff football players are made but what Devin has probably already experienced is the fierce competition between members of his own family—some Packer fans, some Bear fans.

Of course with both teams being Super Bowl-bound (the Packers on the field, playing; the Bears in the stands, watching) Devin is probably having a pretty tough choice deciding which team song to learn: the "Pac" arena or the new Bears bereavement song heard on local sports radio stations.

Of course I am sure that his dad, grandpa and great-grandpa as well as his grandma, aunts and uncle are staying totally neutral in persuading the young lad's decision making process. I bet none of them are guilty of trying to influence or sway the little guy's loyalties one bit—year right! No pressure though Devin, this parent-domination and persuasion experience will make your little league years seem like child's play!

Well little Devin welcome to our big world, welcome to our quaint little town, and if you really have a hard time deciding which team to pick, sometimes it is a refreshing idea to start your own trends instead of submitting to peer pressure and family traditions. After all who wants to root for a team wearing a wedge of cheese on their head or cheer for a team outside during our wonderfully freezing Chicago winters waiting for a dome to be built.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Some may say you should choose a team with more potential, a lot more ability and talent, and much nicer stadium—a team like, say, the Minnesota Vikings! Good luck Devin!

Retirement gala

St. Peter's Parish will be bidding a fond farewell to one of their most prized employees. On Oct. 27, after the 11 a.m. children's mass, a reception will be held for anyone who wishes to express their well wished for Joan Vistain. After 33 years she has decided it's time to throw out that alarm clock and spend leisurely days taking walks and writing poetry. The reception will be held in the school social center and all are welcome to visit with Vistain and share in some coffee and desserts.

On the homefront

This is the weekend the Antioch VFW will be hosting their Annual Fall Craft Fair on Saturday, Oct. 26 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 27 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. At last count there were more than 70 crafters signed up to display their wares, show off their talents and sell their goods.

Sounds like a great place to pick up those few last minute stocking stuffers for all of you out there who are wrapping up your holiday shopping.

For those of you who have a hard time thinking "Christmas" in October, why not make the holiday season less stressful and head on over to the VFW hall and get a head start on that chore that so many put off until the eve before the big day. This way if you get your shopping done early, while all your friends and relatives are fighting the crowds and prowling the malls, you can be in the comforts of your own home, sitting in front of a roaring fire, drinking egg nog and singing Christmas carols with your loved ones, just like a Norman Rockwell painting. (I think I would rather be out shopping!).

But which ever way your shopping habits have a tendency to stray, you are bound to find something to your liking up at the VFW hall this weekend which is located on North Avenue, east of Rte. 83. Happy browsing!

It's the 97th annual

Now if you don't manage to find that oh-so-perfect for Auntie

Em at the VFW craft fair the friendly folks over at the Millburn Congregational United Church will be sponsoring their 97th Annual Fall Bazaar and Chicken Dinner Friday, Nov. 1. The bazaar is open to everyone and will begin at 2 p.m. and will feature "fancy work" for sale, a bake sale, and a candy sale. Dinner is by reservation only with four seatings at 4:30, 5:30, 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Reservations may be made by calling 356-5237, 662-3901, or 395-7013. They will be asking for a donation of $7.50 per adult and $3.75 per child through high school age.

The church is located in Millburn on the corner of Grass Lake Road and Rte. 45. I wouldn't miss this event, if they have been doing this for 97 years they must be doing something right!

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle." Don't forget to call 395-6364.

-Park Happenings- Kids can learn to draw at the park

Computertots

Computer fun for little ones. These enrichment classes expose children in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere and provide children with a creative, discovery oriented experience. Classes are taught by experienced early childhood professionals using Apple or IBM compatible computers. The use of computers can begin an adventure with technology to learn of the endless possibilities to come. First session is Oct. 31 through Nov. 21 and the cost is $35 for Village Residents, $40 for Township Residents, or $45 for those outside of Antioch.

Me, Myself and Mom

The Antioch Parks and Recreation Department announces limited openings in the Mom and Tot program designed to introduce two and three year olds to organized activities. This program gives children a chance to share with others in a semi-structured environment. Spaces remain on Fridays from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Kids basketball

Antioch Parks and Recreation is holding registration for all basketball programs. The Parks office has expanded its basketball offerings this year include ages four through adult. Four to eight year olds include boys and girls. If you have a future all-star in your house, or a little one who just likes to play ball, call for details.

For the 13 to 16 year olds, an instructional pick up class is offered. High quality instruction includes the physical and mental parts of the game both as an individual and team player. This offers teens a chance to sharpen their offensive and defensive skills as they learn to play from both sides of the court.

For the adults, an open gym is offered at the Antioch High School on Sunday evenings from 7-9 p.m.

for $1 per person per evening. To register call the park office.

Photographs

Where are your priceless photographs? Are they stuffed in shoe boxes or drawers? Or worse, are they stored in one of the many popular albums that chemically destroy your photos? If you are frustrated with the condition of your pictures, this workshop has some answers for you. Learn how to make your albums safe, meaningful, and creative. Included are: Tips on how to organize your photos, what kinds of photo-safe materials to use, how to start your album, and documenting to make your photos more mean-

Great for grade school students, high school students, moms and dads, grandmas and grandpas.

This information and fun hands-on assistance workshop will be offered through Antioch's Department of Parks and Recreation on Wednesday, Nov. 6 from 7 to 9 p.m. Workshop is $10 for village residents, $15 for Township, and $20 for those living outside of Antioch. For more information call the park office.

For information on these or any other Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. programs, call 395-2160.

Constructed in a timely manner!

Swamp dozer to help winter dredging

The Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) took delivery of a swamp dozer which is expected to make winter channel dredging a much easier job and make the Agency more diversified, according to FWA Director Wayne Blake.

The dozer is designed so that it will not sink when being operated in very soft soil and will be used to dredge "dry" channels that have either been blocked off naturally or temporarily by the Agency prior to the dredging.

The earth mover will be used to push sediment lying on the bottom of channels to a backhoe located on the shore. The backhoe which remains stationary, will then scoop up and load the sediment into trucks for hauling away.

"It will allow the dredging operation to go much faster and will also make it possible to work in areas where we usually would not have direct access to a channel with the backhoe because the houses (along the channel) are too close together," explained Blake.

"The dozer is also expected to increase the Agency's efficiency and decrease the cost of dredging on public side channels," explained FWA Director Stan J. Mill.

The agency is leasing the $85,000 piece of equipment from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Office of Water Resources.

"The Agency would like to express our appreciation to the DNR for this extremely useful piece of equipment and also for its continued assistance in working toward the Agency's environmental mission of cleaning up the Chain of Lakes and the Fox River," said FWA Chairman Dr. William Dam.

"I would also like to thank Directors (Marshall) Lowe, Mill and Blake for all their hard work in preparing the specifications for the dozer," Dam added.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Donors lauded

Editor:

Please let this letter serve as a huge thank you to all of those community members, worker volunteers, and donor volunteers who helped make the Sept. 28 Community Wide Marrow Donor Drive an overwhelming success. With a turn out of over 260 people we well exceeded our goal of adding 200 members to the National Marrow Donor Program Registry.

Everyone involved should be proud of a job well done! Not only did we add names to the registry, we increased community awareness of a very important issue. It is wonderful to see that even in the "90s" when people's budgets and time are so stretched, communities can still unite for a cause, and make a difference in this world.

Ted and Vickie Axton
Antioch Community Marrow
Donor Drive Committee

P.S.—For those interested in volunteering to join the registry but for whatever reason could not participate in this one, there is another Community Drive in Fox Lake on Monday afternoon and evening Oct. 28, 1996. Call (847) 587-6311.

Antioch Foot Health Center

Gary M. Kazmer, D.P.M.

DIABETIC FOOT INFECTIONS

For a diabetic, foot infections can be a leading cause of serious problems. Now it has been learned that the site where infection is located has an important bearing on the success or failure of treatment. Researches at Rutgers Medical School, New Brunswick, NJ, found that diabetics who had distal infections, or those affecting the toes or metatarsophalangeal joints, had a much better prognosis than persons whose infections were located along the metatarsal bones, at the heel, or above the ankle.

Diabetic foot infections can be a potentially difficult surgical problem because the infections may extend to structures far away from those detected when the patient is first examined.

Diabetic patients should schedule regular podiatric examinations. Professional care of nails and skin can help avoid infection.

on the college-level Advanced Placement Examinations.

The College Board recognizes several levels of achievement based on the number of year-long courses and exams. At Antioch Community High School: Heather Cramond and Jason Mondello 'qualified for the AP Scholar with Distinction Award by earning grades of 3 or above on five or more AP exams, with an average exam grade of at least 3.5.

Lauren Burke, Michael Kelly, and Catherine Mitchell qualified for the AP Scholar with Honors Award by earning grades of 3 or above on four or more AP exams, with an average exam grade of at least 3.25.

William Bell, Noelle Bernabe, Colin Dent, Lindsay Edwards, Kevin Fasana, Emily Harting, Elizabeth Lennon, Walter Martens, Sandra Ruscko, and Tracy Virag qualified for the AP Scholar Award by completing three or more AP exams, with grades 3 or higher.

AP examinations, which students take in May after completing challenging college-level courses at their high school, are graded on a 5-point scale.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit and/or placement for grades of 3 or higher, and more than 1,300 institutions award a year of credit (sophomore standing) to students with a sufficient number of qualifying grades.

ACHS offers AP courses in the English, Math, Science and Social Science Departments.

won't be a problem," Jonites.

"They were disappointed it could take five years."

Most of the residential growth would come from the sale of existing lots in the township.

Jonites added most of the people at the meeting were not usual people who attend UHAUA meetings.

The original study only encompassed the target area of 1,677 homes in subdivisions which petitioned the county board to do the study. However, the study was revised to include numbers with current subdivisions and projecting new growth. That estimate projects 5,400 homes.

The cost went down from an initial $20,730 including connection fees, cost of sewer and cost of septic abandonment using the old target area.

The revised target area projects a cost of $13,895 if a line is installed through Grass Lake.

However, it would cost an estimated $14,255 if sewers lines went from Rte. 59 and Rte. 173.

Martini added these estimates are good for about two years. She said people in the unincorporated areas may finally get the services they are looking for.

"It always seems they are willing to provide service to the new areas first and not for the people who have been paying for years," Jonites said.

Martini said she wants the ball to get rolling.

"We have waited 10 years. We don't want to wait another five years."

The sewers would likely start in the southern subdivisions and gradually work up to the northern areas.

Martin Galantha, Lake County public works director, acknowledged there are several steps that need to be followed and this study is only the beginning.

He said the county has never taken on a sewer project of this scope.

Another wild card could be the Village of Lake Villa. The village signed a boundary agreement with the Village of Antioch. However the boundary agreement and sewer service areas are two different things.

The boundary line is Beach Grove Road.

Only Lake Villa could annex property from Grass Lake Road to Beach Grove Road unless the village allows another village to do so.

Galantha said Lake Villa's sewer service area runs only to Grass Lake Road. He added the village has not expressed an interest to increase that service area.

Martini differed with Galantha's view that there are other projects more vital to the county with the exception of the Old Mill Creek sewer plant.

"There will be a new board in 41 days and it will be going in a new direction," Martini said.

One classroom was restored. It includes desks from the early 1900s. Other items include diplomas and awards dating back to the early 1900s and pictures.

The Lakes Area Historical Society was formed by Betty Lou Williams in 1973 with the idea to move into the current site on Depot and Main streets. The museum was dedicated in 1987.

Other items include a part of the original town well, the paper recording the vote that named the area Antioch Township in 1850, a display of old postcards, the original front of the Bank of Antioch from 1894, and dentist equipment, including a chair and utensils from E.L. Lutterman, a dentist from 1924-60.

Besides the items already on display, others continue to come in. The museum just received a photo of the 1919 Antioch Community High School class.

"It has a picture of my father," said Ralph Trieger who was working on the Veterans display.

For those who want to look up information there is a resource center with many documents.

The museum is open on Saturdays from 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

COURAGE youth to decorate

Members of COURAGE (Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment) will decorate the main streets of Lindenhurst, Lake Villa, Grayslake and Antioch with red ribbons in observance of the Red Ribbon Celebration, a national drug prevention program. Youth in grades six through 12 will decorate the streets from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Lisa Hartman, vice-chair of COURAGE and a prevention specialist with the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) said, "our vision is to bring together people of different ages and backgrounds in order to create a safe and healthy environment by deterring gang and criminal activity through prevention. We do this by providing education, intervention and positive alternative activities."

Young people and adults interested in participating in COURAGE programs—including the hanging of red ribbons on Oct. 26—can phone Lisa Hartman at 546-6450.

Rothermel finishes 4th in NSC meet

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

This time last year, some of the Stevenson High girls runners were running in open meets after the varsity's top runners had competed.

This year, the Patriots were open to a suggestion: led by Tracy Denaro, how about a first North Suburban Conference girls cross country title?

The Pats' 46 point effort Saturday at Lakewood Forest Preserve was good enough to accomplish that goal.

Stevenson beat Libertyville by six points. Lake Forest had 62 points, Antioch 70 points.

Denaro was second to Lake Forest's Victoria Jackson in the individual title, as the Scout won in 10 minutes, 59.94 seconds. Denaro clocked a 11:12.

SHS coach Deb Stewart said.

Mondo and Denaro have different styles in leading the Patriots. Denaro is a two-year varsity veteran as a sophomore. Mondo had a time of 11:39, far bettering her best at Lakewood of 12:35.

Mondo was one of the open runners last year. "She just had a mindset this year. Dana is more of a sprinter," Stewart said.

"They all ran the race of their lives," Stewart said.

Patriot Frosh Shannon Cronin had a 11:40.

Jenny Arnold was third from Libertyville in 11:18:19. "Arnold was back in the pack in the beginning. She ran the race that was there. She had been sick all week," Libertyville coach Harry Carlson said.

Junior Shayne Jacobsen had a 11:45.

"I was trying to stay with the other teams' second runners," she said.

Jacobsen was watching this time last year due to an injury. "I feel more part of the team this year. Team unity is the reason behind our victories," she said.

Other Antioch finishers: Cara Heneberry in 11:57; Megan Michell in 12:04; Lauren Steinberg in 12:12; Mouse Barbic in 12:22 and Colleen McCandless in 12:29.

Determined Blue Devils outlast Antioch rivals

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

It looked like the Antioch-Warren girls volleyball match was going to be yet another clash heading to a third game.

Antioch, after losing game one, battled back for a tie at 12-12 and led 14-12 with game point a sideout away.

That is when the Blue Devils drew a line on the court, dug their heels in and said, no to a third game. They gained momentum with digs and saves and held Antioch off for a 15-10, 16-14 North Suburban Conference win.

Tarra Baaske and Kathy Huntington divided up the middle for four straight digs which led to a kill by Elizabeth Wiegers for a 15-14 lead. A hitting error by Antioch ended the game.

Two juniors led the Sequoits effort. Jennifer Cardis had 11-of-13 at the net with 7 kills. "She has played hard and well lately. She puts in a lot of hard work," Antioch coach Gwen Varney said.

Emily Levin gave the ACHS squad some well-timed kills.

Carrie Kowalczyk had 38-of-28 serving with 8 assists. ACHS slipped to 10-15, 2-5 NSC.

A kill by Poliquin sent the Blue Devils on a four-point run which gave them a 12-8 first game lead. Baaske and April Peterson scored points off kills in that run. Another Peterson kill brought Warren to game point.

Baaske served the first six points of the second game.

The Warren runaway was slowed. an Antioch rally behind Carrie Gofron's serves cut the deficit to one point, 7-6.

With Cardis serving, the match was tied at 9-9, but a determined Warren bunch was not about to let this one slip to a third game.

"We need to practice better and have a better work ethic. We come to games expecting it to come together and it doesn't," Varney said.

Warren improved to 19-6 overall, 4-3 North Suburban Conference.

Antioch hopes to keep on running to six-win season

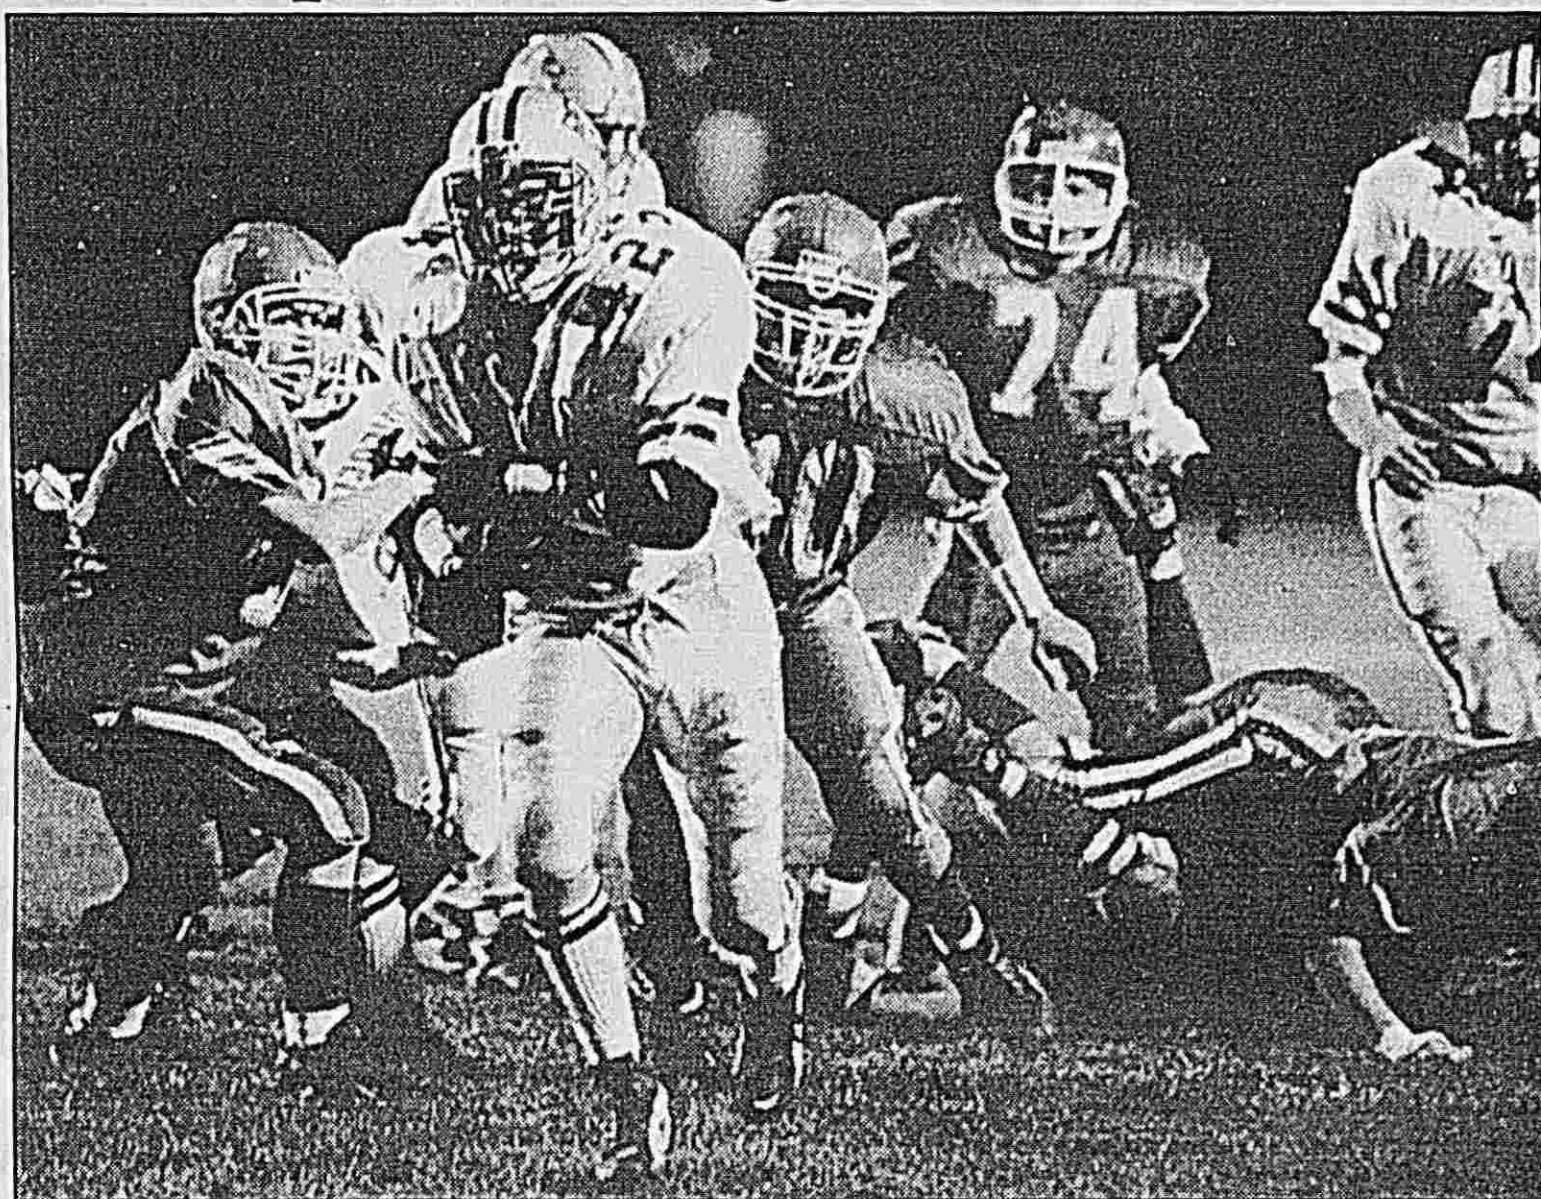

The pre-game belonged to the Homecoming of Mundelein's show, but the balanced Antioch football team's attack set the Sequoits up for the position they wanted to be in: a winning season secured and a post-season berth a possibility.

The 34-15 win was made possible by Dave Gooch's 70 yards in passing and 69 yards in rushing. Brandon Polheber had his fourth 100-yard game as he gained 108 yards.

Antioch (5-3 overall, 4-3 North Suburban Conference), must upset Lake Forest at home at 1 p.m. Oct. 26 and hope for enough playoff qualifying points.

"We had three long drives of 80, 80 and 95 yards with one taking eight minutes. The offensive line did a great job adjusting. They did some of that on their own and I said if it is working, keep doing it," Antioch coach Del Pechauer said.

While odds are the Sequoits bid for state may come up shy due to poor records of non-conference foes Chicago Harlan and East Aurora, the finale could be a preview for next year. The back-See ANTIOCH page A13

Playoffs bring another Warren-ACHS soccer test

It was four days in the making and took the efforts of two goalies, but Warren High's soccer team gained the upper hand in a home-and-away series with Antioch.

Warren completed a 3-0 win Monday which was started the previous Thursday when Warren scored two goals. Romell Overton and Scott Merzlicker scored the Thursday goals and Matt Johnson scored on a break-away on Tuesday. The Thursday clash was stopped due to lightening.

Ed Montano survived a flurry of Antioch shots at the Warren goal in the closing seconds. He is a junior who learned he would pick up the slack from an injured John Weir earlier that day.

"I had been playing a lot on the field - I did not have a lot of confidence. I think this game kind of got my confidence up," Montano said.

The Warren team spirit is expected to be an ally as the Blue Devils look to continue the domination of Antioch when the two teams clash in the opening round of the Wheeling sectional Oct. 25 at WTHS.

"There is a lot of team spirit which really helps you as a goalie," Montano said.

Coach Bob Tatgenhorst could not agree more.

"They are a lot of fun to be with. They are such a fine group. I wish there were more than 11 positions on the field," he said.

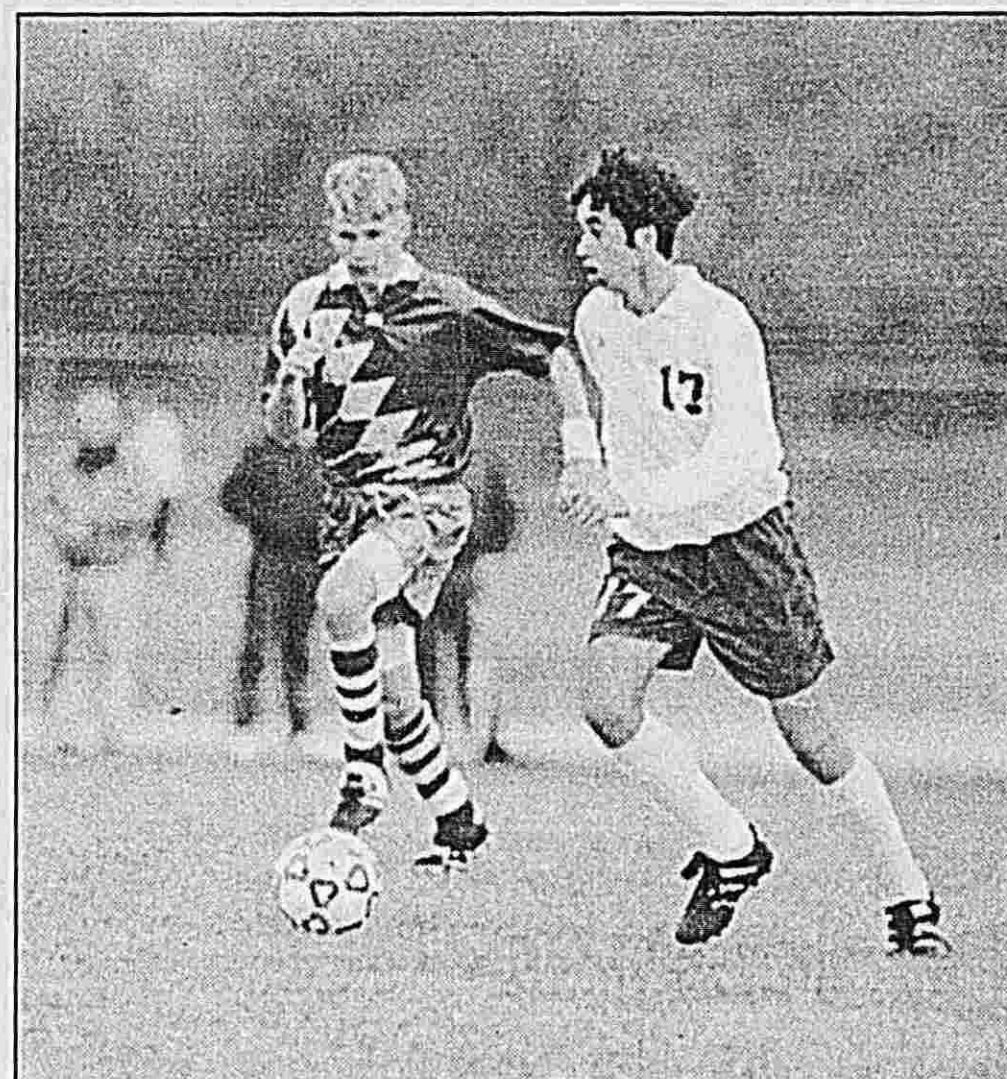

Overton noted the more aggressive play of the offense. He attributes his success to working with Kofi Larrey, a former Warren High standout now at the College of Lake County.

Warren, who fought Glenbrook South to a 1-1 tie last week, improved to 10-6-12.

The match featured many players who play for the Warren United soccer squad.

Antioch coach Brad Wilson vowed his team will be ready for Friday's encounter. ACHS concludes the regular season 7-8-4.

"We played well at times, but we could not get the ball in the net. The kids will bring some pride for the playoffs," Wilson said.

Antioch takes four from Round Lake

The Antioch Vikings traveled to Round Lake Sunday and won four of four games played from the Round Lake Spartans. The Lightweights and Featherweights remained unbeaten and in first place; The Heavyweights won their sixth of seven games played this season; And the Pee Wees win advanced them into the league playoffs this weekend.

The Antioch Raiders Featherweights were tested by the Round Lake Spartans, but were strong enough to survive a 6-0 win. The Raiders remain undefeated at 7-0 and in first place. The Raiders were guilty of three turnovers deep in Spartan territory that stopped long drives. The only score of the game came when QB Trent Domel tossed a 12 yard TD pass to Jeff Welter in the first quarter. The game see-sawed thereafter which each team moving the ball but unable to find the end zone. The Raiders defense was led by Sam Carden, Jeff Cannella, Brian Peters, Adam Lehn, and Dino Katris held on for the Raider victory. The Raiders will face the Warren Blue team next weekend in the first round of the playoffs.

The Antioch Viking Pee Wees won their fourth game of the season, a win that enabled the Vikings to gain a berth in the league playoffs next weekend. Running back Chris Pollack scored a pair of touchdowns in leading the Viking offensive game. Back Luke Seznov added the third Antioch TD in their 18-6 victory over Round Lake. The Viking defense was led by Jason Rogalla, Nicholas Nathan, Chris Cabrera.

Offensively, QB Ben Rozewicz and Taylor Pechauer were key players for the Vikings. Mike Ano, Brian Wood, Aaron Hewitt, and Ryan Frederick did an excellent job on the Viking offensive line. The Pee Wees advance to the first round of the league playoffs Sunday and will face the undefeated Grayslake Colts.

The Viking Lightweights won their eighth game of the season and captured first place in regular season play with a hard fought 31-6 victory over the Round Lake Spartans. The game was close throughout most of the first half Antioch found pay dirt first as running back Bobby Grasser, celebrating his birthday, scored on a four yard run early in the first quarter. The extra point kick by QB Mark Purnell made it 8-0. But Round drove 61 yards and scored cutting the lead to 8-6, with a missed extra point. The score stayed that way until just 31 seconds remaining in the first half. Round Lake attempted a flat pass, but the line backer Chris Romano intercepted and ran the ball in from 31 yards away.

Another Purnell kick made it 16-6 at the half. In the second half QB Purnell scored two touchdowns and kicked still another extra point as the Vikings pulled away for the 31-6 victory, Billy Damron added an extra point on an extra point run. The defensive unit shut down Round Lake in the second half and was left by Grasser, Mike Smith, Chris Richardson, Chris Wold, Purnell, and Romano. One of Purnell's two TD's was a 54 yard pass interception.

Running back Mike Smith had another 100 yard plus running game on nine carries. The offensive line was keyed by center Jim Huspen, guards Eric Sesko and Ryan Roberts, and tackles Justin Mehaffey, Lincoln Barnett and Bill Banser with strong blocking by ends Billy Damron and Josh Kaminsky. The Lightweights open first round playoff action Sunday as the playoff favorite.

The Viking Heavyweights won their sixth game of the season with a 36-0 shutout over The Round Lake Panthers. The Antioch defensive unit held Round Lake in check throughout the game limiting the Panthers to just four first downs. Matt Green made two fumble recoveries for Antioch. Viking touchdowns were scored by J. T. Litchfield with two, and a touchdown each by Ian Lampe, Alan Rapinchuk, and Chris Rogalla. The Viking rushed for over 400 yards. Antioch will host the first round of the league playoffs Sunday at Antioch High School.

Thunder U-10 girls down Blazers 4-0

The Lindenhurst Thunder Girl's U 10 Soccer team played the Warren United Blazers to a 4-0 victory this Past Sunday. The Warren Blazers played a tough game, keeping possession of the ball on the Lindenhurst Thunder's side of the field for most of the first half.

Lindenhurst Thunder's quick offensive players were still able to breakaway from the Warren's defense for three first half goals. The first goal began as Holly Roberts crossed the ball to Gina Florian for the breakaway and the first score of the game. A long pass from Pam Staton, set up the next goal when Gina Florian sprinted out pass the Warren defense and volleyed the ball over the goalkeeper for the score. Gina Florian scored her third goal of the game on a forward pass from Amanda Otten.

Both teams played a great second half, with each team attempting to keep possession of the ball. The last goal of the game came in the final minutes, when Calla Myslinski passed to Megan Placko for the shot on goal. The other Thunder team members contributing to the win were Janelle Buss, Melissa Lulofs, Michelle Marturano, Carly Richter, and Stefanie Sweeney. It was a great game, with both teams giving an outstanding effort. The Lindenhurst Thunders record is 7-0.

Royal Eagles down St. Charles, 2-1

The U-13 Lindenhurst Royal Eagles went to St. Charles Sunday for a nice early morning soccer game.

In the first half, the team had shots by Brian Walsh and Ryan Jordan that didn't find the mark, but with persistence, Adam Placko found an open space to score first, assisted by Tommy Woodruff. With ten minutes left in the first half, Adam Jordan fed the ball to Woodruff and he powered it through the outreached hands of the Goalie. The second half started just as the first. Lots of scoring opportunities missed. Finally, with a corner kick from Jordan, a deflection from Kaleb Barrett, Scott Zalewski put it in. St. Charles came back with their only score minutes left in the game.

Standouts in defense lead by Ramesh Kumar with Matt Boller, David Gustafson, and Kaleb Barrett. Standouts in the mid-field lead by Adam Jordan with Taylor Groth and Scott Zalewski.

Lindenhurst Power-Girls U-17 drop close match to Lake Forest

Forced to play shorthanded due to injuries and other commitments, the Lindenhurst Power lost 3-2 to Lake Forest JPS. Lake Forest tallied first before Sara Richardson converted on a penalty kick to tie the score at 1-1.

Lake Forest then scored twice before Richardson put in a crossing pass from Jamie Wismer. The Power kept the pressure on, actually outshooting Lake Forest, but they were unable to convert on several goal scoring opportunities. Everyone played hard going the full 90 minutes, but Nicci Estep, Kristen Gamlin and Christy Plotz had exceptionally strong games in the defeat. The Power is now 3-2-1 on the regular season.

Marthouse, doubles duo gain state bids for Rams

Melissa Marthouse completed a tennis season filled with dedication as she rose from a player who did not make the team her freshman year to a state qualifier her senior season.

Grayslake's No. 1 singles player advanced to the state meet this weekend in Mt. Prospect as she finished second to Johnsbury's Lisa Szarek. The two engaged in a three-set battle before Szarek won 2-6, 6-4, 6-0.

Grayslake also qualified a doubles team as Rachel Lawrence and Heather Lesinski finished second to McHenry's Sarah Gillstrom and Abby Christensen. The Rams garnered 20 points and runner-up honors at the McHenry sectional.

"Melissa did a great job - she did not play as a freshman but worked hard and to qualify for the state tournament is fantastic," Rams coach Chuck Olson said.

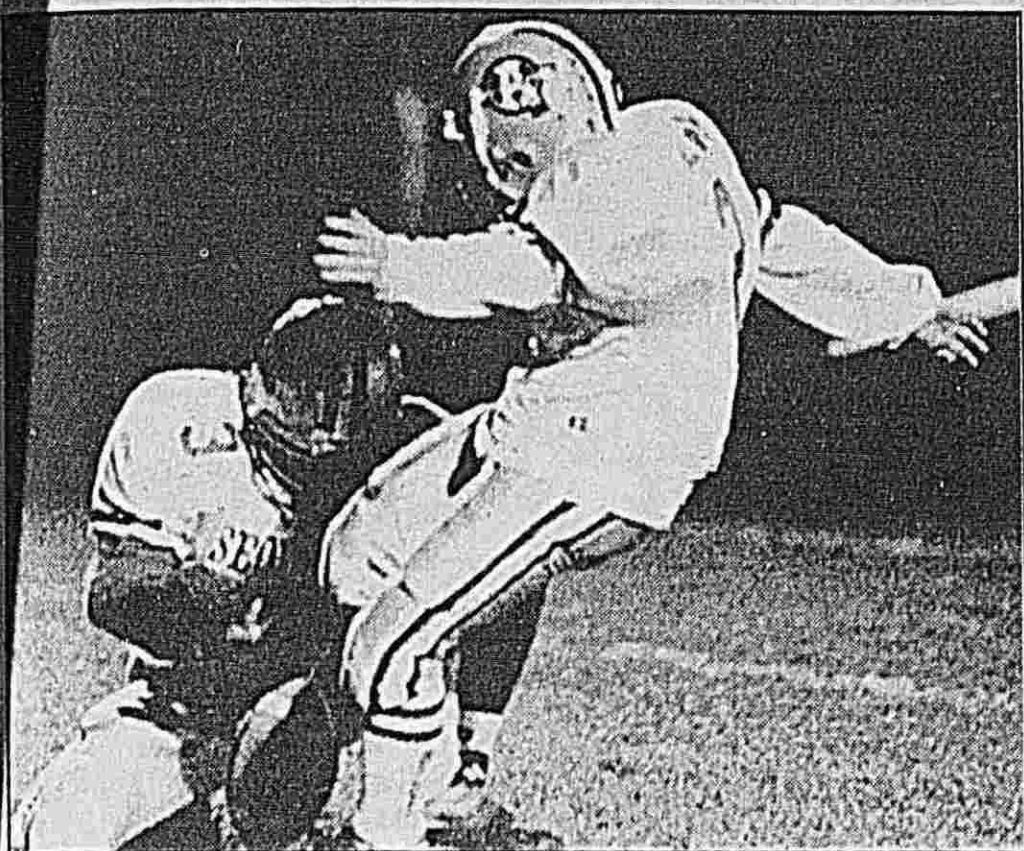

Marthouse downed Grant's Nelle Brezden 6-2, 6-2 in the semis to advance to the top four which qualify.

The match with Northwest Suburban Conference singles champ Szarek featured four duces in the second game before the Skyhawk pulled ahead.

Marthouse brings a 24-3 record to state.

The doubles team of Molly Arthur and Shannon Fricilone lost in the match before the quarterfinals to Marian Central 6-1, 6-1.

Olson was pleased with the performance of the NWSC team champs. "We scored 20 points - we are getting better every year," he said.

field, plus wide receiver Brad Marchidion (who caught a 13-yard pass from Gooch which put the game out of reach) will be back next year.

"Our offensive line has really come together. The confidence since the Zion game (an overtime loss) has been boosted. It took awhile at the beginning," Polheber said.

The beginning was a combined 75-0 defeats at the hands of NSC champ Stevenson and power Libertyville.

Pohleber has known some of the linemen making the holes for him for three years or more.

Pechauer said the passing game was the best it has been all year. Gooch connected with Jeremy Grace for an 18-yard pass for a TD and ran it in from 45 yards out himself.

Chris Schultz capped a long drive with an 5-yard TD run.

Stu Johnson, a senior linebacker, remained the defense's anchor. MHS scored two fourth quarter consolation scores after a 34-0 deficit. Joe Sidari scored from 11 yards out and Darrell Pearl from three yards out. Three missed field goals by Mundelein killed early chances. QB Bill Zasadil passed for over 100 yards.

Pechauer knows the Scouts, coming off a win over Cahokia, will be a tough challenge.

"They have been running that wishbone for years and we still have not figured out how to stop them," he said.

The Sequoias may have Joe Day, a senior running back, returning to the lineup after he missed the Mundelein game.

Lindenhurst Soccer tryouts planned for U-15 to U-18

Lindenhurst Youth Soccer will hold tryouts for its boys U-15 to U-18 traveling soccer teams on Saturday, Oct. 26 and Nov. 2 from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Polley Field

Players must be born on or after Aug. 1, 1981 (U-15) or Aug. 1, 1978 (U-18) to be eligible.

Tryout candidates will participate in a variety of drills and scrimmages. Shinguards must be worn.

For more information, call Ron at 838-0084.

Lindenhurst Rockets post victory

The Lindenhurst Rockets (Girls U-11) posted their fifth victory of the season shutting out the Glen Ellyn Lakers by a score of 5-0. The Rockets opened the scoring early with an unassisted goal by Katie Malcolm made within the first three minutes of the game.

The Lakers and Rockets played evenly for the remainder of the half with the half-time score of 1-0. The Rockets broke the game open in the second half scoring four goals.

Lissa Coby had the hat trick scoring three consecutive goals. Katie Lincoln, Amy Shouse and Courtney Ksioszk assisted Lissa Coby on the goals.

Katie Lincoln scored the game's final goal on a pass from Barbara Leal. Jennifer Michehl and Lori Knupp shared goal keeping responsibilities during the shut out victory.

The Rocket's record now stands at 5-1-1 and they will host Team Elmhurst on Sunday.

Power-Girls U17 down goal diggers

The Lindenhurst Power participated in the Libertyville Octoberfest Tournament over the past weekend.

The Power defeated the Lake Forest Goal Diggers 2-0 in their first game. The game was scoreless with 1 minute left to play before Sarah Richardson was able to drive home the winning goal. Lake Forest then pushed up their defense to get into the attack. However, Jourdan Phillips intercepted a pass after the ensuing kickoff, and got the ball forward to Jamie Wismer who put in the assurance goal.

The second game against Elm Grove, WI also went down to the final minute before the Power earned a 2-1 victory. Lauren Beatty put in a shot off a scramble in front of the net, but Elm Grove came back to tie the score. Kristen Gamlin then scored the winning goal for the Power with less than a minute to play sliding a shot into the lower right corner.

Willgress, Rierden pace 'Cats to title

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Just after completing the North Suburban Conference cross country course, Andrew Willgress still had work to do.

Willgress cheered on his teammates to finish as hard as they could after the Libertyville standout completed the course in 15 minutes, 38.2 seconds. Joe Rierden was second in 15:59.06 and Peter Raak gave the Wildcats three runners in the top five in 16:28.36.

"We have a strong group and we are all shooting for a win. It was good to see Joe finish strong," Willgress said.

With another NSC title behind them, Willgress will lead his teammates to the regional meet back at Lakewood on Oct. 26. LHS won the NSC title by a 25-56 margin over Stevenson.

"We don't talk about times before the race, just to finish in the top places. We had a week of positive workouts," Willgress said.

Willgress has clocked a time of 14:50 for three-miles. He is gearing up to better his ninth-place finish at the state meet last year.

"Andrew's pace was what it should have been. There was nothing here to tax him," LHS coach Bill Dortch said.

Rierden has the challenge of trying to beat Willgress in meets at practices. Running against a Division I prospect has its advantages.

"It is just confidence, really. It takes the pressure off me," Rierden, a four-year varsity runner, said.

Dave Splinter had a seventh-place effort, Greg Hatch was 10th for LHS.

Andrew Kuhlman of Stevenson broke up the Libertyville domination with a third-place effort of 16:11.17. He was followed by Nick Moberg of Warren in 16:18.10.

"We knew exactly what was going to happen - now we have to work to get to the next level," SHS coach Don Proft said.

Lake Forest claimed third with 95 points, four better than Warren's 99. Zion-Benton had 123, Mundelein 153 and Antioch 165.

Hauser shows promise for Carmel

The goal of third-place in the East Suburban Catholic Conference proved not to be attainable, but Carmel had some strong finishes as the Corsairs ended fourth in the league's cross country meet.

"We were shooting to go ahead of St. Patrick for third place, but a couple of kids ran poorly," Carmel coach Jim Halford said.

Last year, Ryan Hauser was a football player, but this fall the soph has turned to cross country. The Corsairs are pleased with his efforts, as he led the 91-point team score with a 16 minute, 22 second time at St. Viator's course. That was good enough for sixth place.

"He is one of our best underclass athletes and he is just getting better," Halford said.

Hauser has ran 15:44 in Peoria, host city to the state meet in two weeks. Regional at Lakewood Forest Preserve Oct. 26 is the first hurdle.

Junior Dave Nakon was 14th in 16:59. Junior Bill Fusz was 24th in 17:55.

Brian Payant was 18th in 17:30. Carmel's usual second-place runner dropped to fifth.

The girls team finished a last-place 122 points. Monica Roach was 12th place and earned all ESCC honors.

The boys were 6-3 in dual meets, the girls 3-4.

Carmel hopes to finish on positive note with 'W'

Just once, just once, Carmel High's football team hopes one of the down-to-the-wire finishes will go their way.

For the seemingly sixth time in as many losses this year, it did not as Carmel made No. 4 Class 4A Bishop McNamara work overtime twice in a 37-34 loss.

"We played very well. I am proud of the team. I am not a believer in learning by losing," Carmel coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The defense adjusted as Bishop McNamara's Justin dole early-game rushing as he gained 116 yards and scored the first TD.

Carmel held lead of 27-20 with 10 minutes left on a one-yard TD run by Jim Hanna. Hanna had the touchdown runs of 14, one and 10 yards in a 70-yard effort.

Jon Styx rushed for over 100 yards for the fourth game in a row. He had a 40-yard TD run.

"He has improved each week," Fitzgibbons said of the sophomore.

But it was Styx's fumble which set up the winning field goal by Brian Lown.

Kevin Dix, also back next year as well as Styx, had 138 yards passing. He teamed up with junior Adam Meyer for a 10-yard TD strike. On the downside, he had three interceptions.

During medieval times in Europe, elves, fairies and witches (believed to take on the form of black cats) were thought to fly over the lands.

Games and rituals involving methods of foretelling the future were a common occurrence during the holiday in Scotland and Ireland.

By Tina Lynn Swiech

The pumpkin replaced the turnip for carved jack-o'-lanterns, and practical jokes were played out by young boys thought to be led by elves in the late 19th century.

Today kids settle for dressing up in costume and going door to door asking the question—'trick or treats?'

Whether you call it Samhain, the festival of the dead;

In Grayslake, on Oct. 26, there will be a Boo Bash held as an alternative to trick or treating.

The Northern Lakes Christian Church is hosting the Boo Bash from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Meadowview School in English Meadows. The event is free and offers carnival games, live music, treats and prizes.

Ghost Walk will be featured in Grayslake, Oct. 29, in which there is to be an influx of monsters, ghouls and goblins making an appearance at Central Park.

At 5:30 p.m., "Little Goblins" are expected to arrive in the woods behind Grayslake Middle School. Then at 7:15 p.m. the even scarier "Big Goblins" are to be making their rounds. Admission is $1 and parking is available at the Grayslake Middle School.

HAPPY HAUNTING TIMES TO ALL

Dutch Gardens in Grayslake is having a half-hour tractor pulled hayride down a decorated trail and cornfield full of Halloween traditions and many pumpkin-headed characters until Oct. 31. Call (847) 223-8288 for more information.

Mundelein's Quig's Orchard will offer a trip through the Haunted Greenhouse when the tale of "The Haunting of Apple Valley" is held Oct. 24 to 27.

The event takes place from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. and will feature a treasure hunt for children. The Wizard of Wonder will also be on hand to tell futures. Bring cameras and have a great time with the entire family. Call Quigs for more information at (847) 566-4520.

At the Carl Sandburg Middle School in Mundelein, the "Night Before Halloween V" will be held Oct. 30 from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. There will be trick or treat handouts, games and prizes, a raffle and refreshments. Call (847) 566-0650 for more information.

In Wauconda, a Haunted Cornfield Maze is an alternative to a haunted house. The event will be held at the Wauconda Apple Orchard, located one mile north of Route 176, off Fairfield Road and Gossell Road.

The cornfield maze will be open Oct. 25 and 26 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Cost is $5 per person.

Lake Zurich's St. Matthew Lutheran School is featuring a Haunted House with lots of thrills and chills. The event is held Oct. 25, 26, and 27 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The school is located at 24500 N. Old McHenry Road. Cost is $3 per person.

An "Original" Haunted House is coming back to Lake Zurich with new haunts in stake for those who dare to enter.

On Oct. 25, 26 and Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., the event will take place in the barn at Paulus Park.

Recommended ages are 10 years to adult. Admission is $5. The barn is located at 400 Whitney Road just off Route 12.

Antioch's Halloween Howl is coming Oct. 25 and 26 in downtown Antioch. Included in the fun is the Happy Ghosts and Happy Haunted Graveyard. These are the children's areas designed for fun and not for fear. The Smiling Spirits at Ben Franklin store offers a moonwalk as well.

For people 13 and over there is the "Tunnel of Terror" sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees. The tunnel will have a series of spooky areas. You must enter through the "Tunnel of Snakes" and exit through the "Tunnel of Rats."

Other activities include carriage rides at the Olde Tyme Deli and Antioch True Value, face painting at the Crafters Gallery, Dracula's Cave featuring PM&L players, and the Witches Kitchen at BJ's and the Pumpkin carving and decorating contest is at Four Squires.

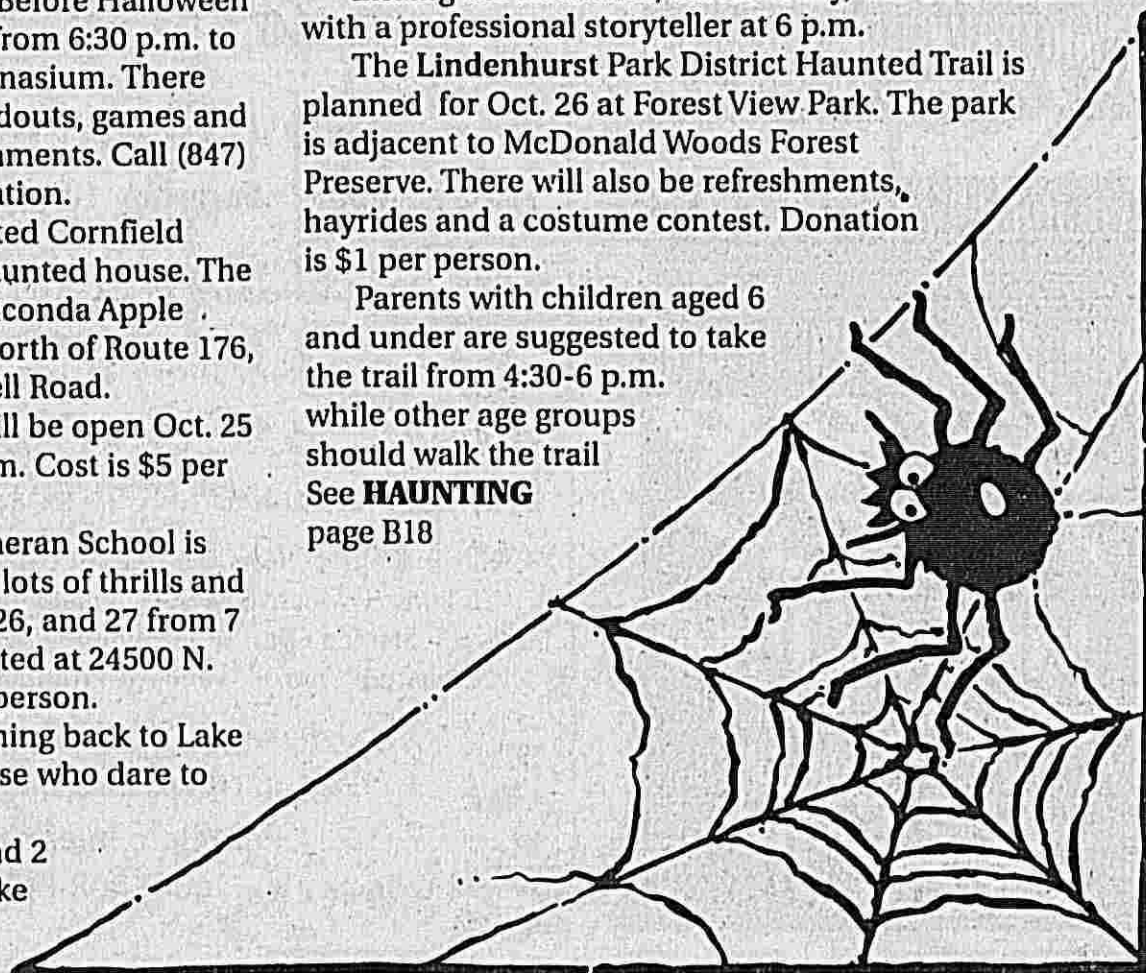

Ending the festivities, on Saturday, will be a bonfire with a professional storyteller at 6 p.m.

The Lindenhurst Park District Haunted Trail is planned for Oct. 26 at Forest View Park. The park is adjacent to McDonald Woods Forest Preserve. There will also be refreshments, hayrides and a costume contest. Donation is $1 per person.

Parents with children aged 6 and under are suggested to take the trail from 4:30-6 p.m. while other age groups should walk the trail. See HAUNTING page B18

All Hallows Eve, in honor of all the saints; All Soul's Day, or Halloween, the Oct. 31 event is just around the corner.

Villages in Lake County are planning programs which will prove a good item for all, without flying fairies or concern for the deceased.

Halloween happenings await the brave!

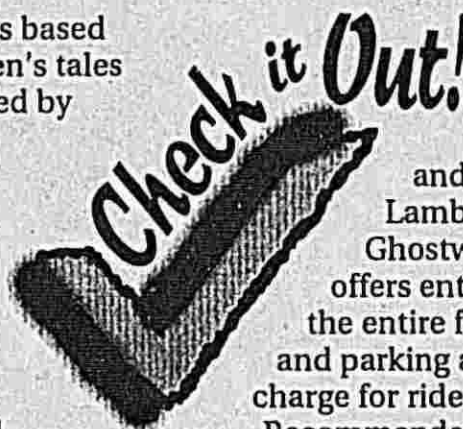

All are invited to experience a Halloween Happening in Schmoogieland, a funny musical extravaganza for the entire family. The event takes place Saturday, Oct. 26 at 2 and 6 p.m. at the Woodstock Opera House. All seats are $7.

Schmoogieland is based on a series of children's tales written and illustrated by Lady Creator. Schmoogieland is a fantasy forest full of glitz and glitter with multicultural and multicolorful critters known for their big, kind and loving hearts of gold. Following the performance join the fun in the Community Room for Halloween treats and treasures. There will also be time for the children to meet the characters, get their autographs and have their pictures taken with the characters. Children are encouraged to come in their costumes too!

For ticket information, call (815)338-5300.

It's also time to get your scariest costume out of the closet and prepare for some spooky fun at Lambs Farm's third annual Ghostwalk sponsored by 93.9 WLIT on Friday, Oct. 25 from 6 to 9:30 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 26 from noon to 9:30 p.m. With rides, costume contests, ghost stories, scavenger hunts and more, the Lambs Farm Ghostwalk celebration offers entertainment for the entire family. Admission and parking are free; small charge for ride and activities. Recommended for children ages 12 and under.

On Friday and Saturday night from 6 to 9:30 p.m., Lambs Farm will be crawling with ghosts, goblins and things that go bump in the night. A haunted train ride and haunted farmyard ghostwalk will be sure to get your heart pounding. For little goblins, a pumpkin bounce house and carousel ride with some of your favorite movie characters will make Halloween fun.

From noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday, visitors can enjoy other fun Halloween activities. A scarecrow making contest and pumpkin painting contest, with all of the supplies you need provided by Lambs Farm, and a scavenger hunt will be held for first, second and third prizes. And, no one will want to miss the horse-drawn hay ride, bobbing for apples or safe trick or treating to 11 different spots on Lambs Farm sure to fill children's goodie bags.

But one of the scariest events at Lambs Farm will be on Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. when Mary Anne Meyers from WLIT's "Let's Read" program will read scary ghost stories and have books to give to the kids.

A scary costume contest will also be held in the afternoon. Prizes will be awarded in each category.

Lambs Farm is located on Rte. 176 (Rockland Road) at I-94 in Libertyville. For more information, call Lambs Farm at 362-4636.

Don't forget to check it out!—

Christmas can be all tied up

Turning your home into a scene of holiday magic can be as simple as tying a bow. To learn how to use ribbons and bows professionally, a class with Mangel Gifts Executive Designer Doug Clark is the smart way to go. The first series, Christmas "How-To" workshops offer advice and instruction on the latest trends and traditional looks in holiday decorating concepts. Participants learn how to use silk flowers, wheat, baskets, ribbons and other materials to make door decorations; table arrangements; trim trees; and create swags. All sessions will be held at Seasons in Long Grove, 314 Old McHenry Rd. from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The individual workshops begin on Saturday, Nov. 2 and are repeated on Monday, Nov. 4; Tuesday, Nov. 5; Wednesday, Nov. 6; Friday, Nov. 7; and on Saturdays, Nov. 9 and 16. The $17.50 per person cost for the workshop includes class and the Seasons luncheon buffet plus a merchandise certificate redeemable at Mangel Gifts. For reservations call, 634-9287.

ART & CRAFTS

Never Cruised Before? Answers to Most-Asked Questions.

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There is nothing I hate more than to walk into a specialty store to buy an item of which I know nothing about and having the sales person assume I know just what I want.

Unfortunately, we in the travel industry sometimes forget that not everyone has cruised before, as we asked what category cabin a client wants or assume he knows he doesn't have to pay for food onboard ship.

So, for those of you who have never cruised, here is a list of questions most asked by first-timers:

Q. What is included in the price I pay up-front?

A. Your cabin, all meals, entertainment, shipboard activities and use of all the ship's facilities. Most cruises also include airfare from your home city and transportation to and from the airport to your ship.

Q. What is not included?

A. Drinks, tips, shore excursions and port taxes. Tips are up to you, but figure about $8 a day. Shore excursions are offered for a fee, but you may just want to explore on your own. Port taxes are paid before your cruise and currently run about $130 for a seven night cruise.

Q. What is the difference between the more expensive cabins and those in the budget category?

A. Size, location and bedding arrangement. Cabins run from two room suites to closet sized rooms with upper and lower bunks. Outside cabins, those with windows, are more expensive. Cabins on the higher decks will also cost you more money. Don't worry. The lowest decks are still well above the waterline.

Q. Will I get the same food and entertainment as the rich folks in suites if I get a budget cabin?

A. There was a time when cruising offered first and second class cabins with separate dining, show lounges, etc. Now all passengers share the same facilities. The only difference in cabin costs is the cabin itself.

Can you spare two hours for your child's education?

What makes an independent school education worth the sacrifice?

Here are a few facts that may help you answer this question.

Our student:teacher ratio is 7:1. Our students' average SAT scores run about 100 points higher than those at the best public schools around Chicago. Results on college-level Advanced Placement exams rank almost 50 percent above the national average. All of our students attend college — from the Ivy League to the Midwest to sunny California.

We think that's a pretty good return on your investment of a couple of hours. To learn more, join us for an open house on Sunday, November 10; from 1:00 to 3:00. Call us at 847-615-3267 to respond, or to receive more information.

Movie Pick 'Chamber' another grisly Grisham

Just how many legal-eagle flicks about the infamous white-hooded Klan and racial hatred in Mississippi do we need to see?

Author and attorney John Grisham is still making money writing books on that subject and selling them to Hollywood, but even he had little to do with the final version of "The Chamber," based on his best selling novel of the same name, although he sold the outline of the novel for record mega bucks.

By the time it was rewritten a boodle of times, Grisham bowed out, as did Director Ron Howard. So maybe we're not the only ones who have grown weary of seeing a good looking young lawyer risk his life by battling injustices, racial, criminal, etc.

In this Grisham tale, Chris

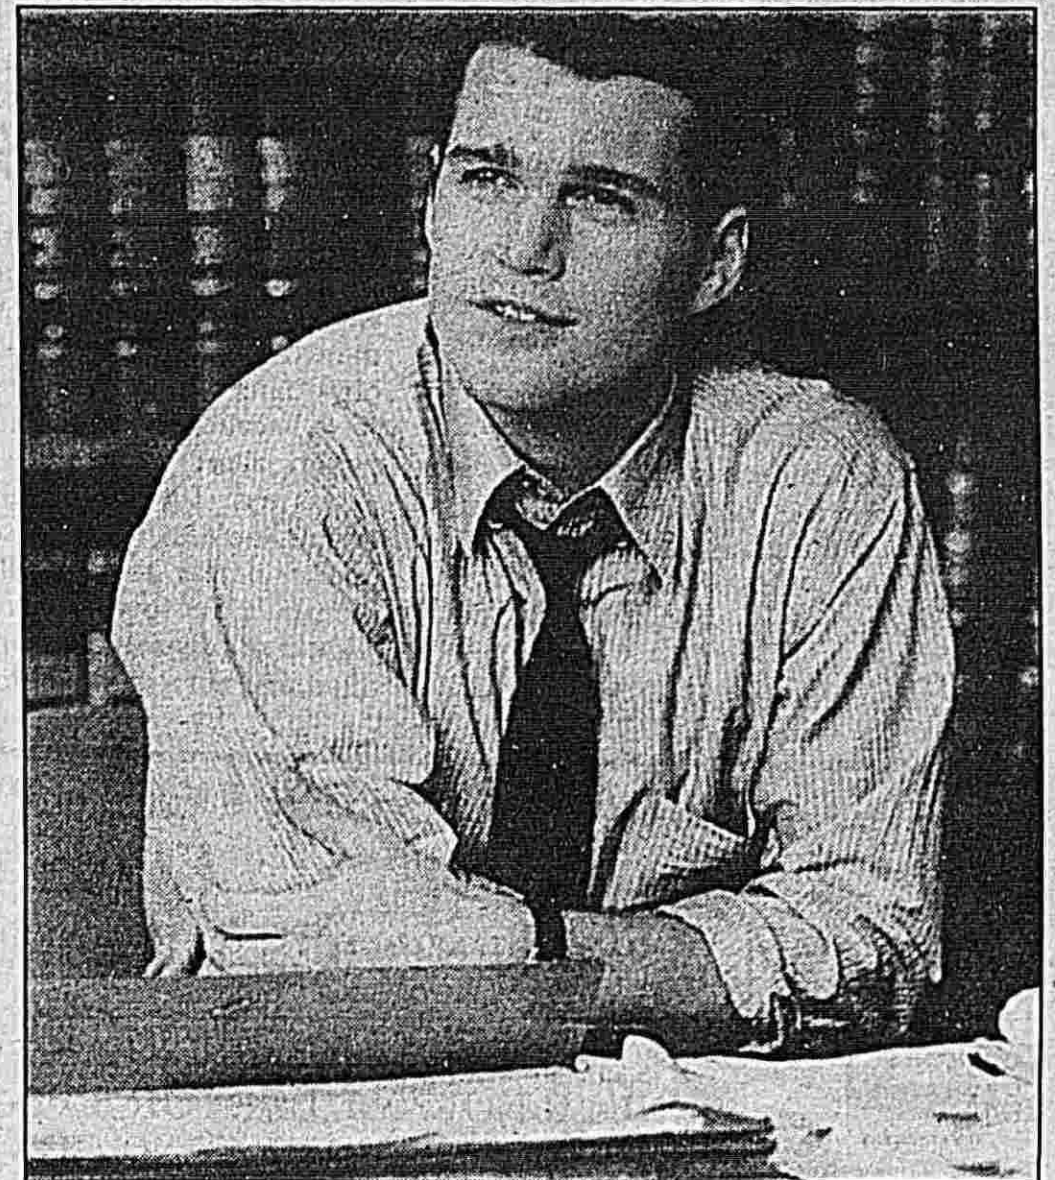

O'Donnell's first case after graduating from law school turns out to be handling the last minute appeals for a stay of execution of a Klan member who blew up two children while delivering his own particular kind of hate message.

Guess what! The man waiting on death row turns out to be O'Donnell's grandfather whom he has never met.

Gene Hackman, who has proven that he is one of our most talented and very versatile actors, does his usual good job in portraying the dour murderer.

Faye Dunaway, is properly psychotic as Hackman's alcoholic daughter. Although we like O'Donnell and think he's a fine young actor with a lot of charisma, the adjective young describes why his contribution is just adequate.

We read that O'Donnell campaigned heavily for the part. Well when Bryan Grazer of Image Entertainment, owner of the script, gave in to O'Donnell, he was probably five years and a lot of acting seasoning too soon. O'Donnell is not Tom Cruise or even Matthew McConaughey.

Chris O'Donnell

The story is predictable and the death watch over long. Add to this Director John Foley's bland attempts as he fails to help O'Donnell correct his lapses and maintain the good acting consistency he shows glimpses of.

We give the "R" rated "Chamber" 2.5 out of five stars. It turns out to be an OK flick that many would prefer to wait to see on video.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Ten warning signs from Alzheimer's Association

Forgetting where you put your keys is normal. Forgetting that your keys start your car is not normal, and could be a sign of Alzheimer's disease. According to the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn., many people wrongly assume that memory loss, decline in mental abilities, disorientation and even bizarre behavior are a normal part of the aging process. They actually may be symptoms of Alzheimer's disease, requiring a physician's assessment and care.

The Alzheimer's Assn. has developed a checklist to help identify early warning signs of dementia. People who know someone who exhibits these symptoms, or experiences the symptoms themselves, should see a physician.

1. Recent memory loss that affects job performance.

It's normal to occasionally forget, colleagues' names or a business associate's telephone number, but generally remember them later. Those with a dementia, such as Alzheimer's disease, may forget things more often, and not remember them later. They may repeatedly ask the same question, not remembering the answer, or that they already asked the question.

2. Difficulty performing familiar tasks.

Busy people can be distracted from time to time and leave carrots on the stove, only remembering to serve them at the end of the meal. People with Alzheimer's disease could prepare a meal, forget to serve it, and even forget they made it.

3. Problems with language.

Everyone has trouble finding the right word sometimes, but can finish the sentence with another appropriate word. A person with Alzheimer's disease may forget simple words, or substitute inappropriate words, making their sentence incomprehensible.

4. Disorientation of time and place.

It's normal to forget the day of the week or your destination for a moment. But people with Alzheimer's disease can become lost on their own street or in a familiar shopping mall, not knowing where they are, how they got there or how to get home.

5. Poor or decreased judgment

People can become so immersed in an activity or telephone conversation they temporarily forget the child they're watching. A person with Alzheimer's disease could entirely forget the child under their care and leave the house to visit a neighbor.

6. Problems with abstract thinking.

People who normally balance their checkbooks may be momentarily disconcerted when the task is more complicated than usual, but will eventually figure out the solution. Someone with Alzheimer's disease could forget completely what the numbers are and what needs to be done with them.

7. Misplacing things.

Anyone can misplace their wallet or keys, but eventually find them by reconstruction where they could have left them. A person with Alzheimer's disease may put things in inappropriate places—an iron in a freezer, or a wristwatch in the sugar bowl—and not be able to retrieve them.

8. Changes in mood or behavior.

Everyone has a bad day once in while, or may become sad or moody from time to time. Someone with Alzheimer's disease can exhibit rapid mood swings for no apparent reason. e.g., from calm to tears to anger to calm in a few minutes.

9. Changes in personality

People's personalities ordinarily change somewhat at different ages, as character traits strengthen or mellow. But a person with Alzheimer's disease can change drastically, becoming extremely irritable, suspicious or fearful.

10. Loss of initiative

It's normal to tire of housework, business activities or social obligations, but most people regain their initiative. The person with Alzheimer's disease may become very passive and require cues and prompting to get them involved in activities.

The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. provides an information/support line telephone information and referral service, 49 Family Support Groups throughout the four-county areas, the Alzheimer's victims in Chicagoland, respite aide training programs and respite assistance for family members, an extensive education and referral network and advocacy on behalf of patients and families.

FREE REPORT REVEALS THE 10 BIGGEST MISTAKES RETIREES MAKE AND HOW TO AVOID THEM!

NORTHBROOK, IL - A local retirement expert has just published a report that explains the 10 biggest mistakes people make when they retire, and how to avoid them.

He cited an example of a couple who took their retirement money and invested almost all of it into "risk free" things, and had to eventually move in with their children because they literally ran out of money.

Another woman had to pay over $29,000 in needless income taxes because she made a seemingly small mistake with the choices she made at retirement. Obviously, the mistake wasn't so small.

Retirement is a point in your life that doesn't allow the luxury of time to make up for mistakes. Once you've reached that age, you have little or no room for "trial and error" methods of taking care of your money.

Accordingly, the retirement expert has prepared a FREE report called, "The Ten Biggest Mistakes People Make When Retiring And How To Avoid Them And How To Stop Using "Trial And Error" As Your Main Technique Of Retirement Financial Management."

The report is available by calling 1-800-640-5530 for a FREE recorded message.

It may be hard—but it's time to cut 'apron strings'

PHILIP COLATRINO

Q. Our son recently asked if he could borrow some money—$20,000 to be exact! It seems that he and his wife got carried away with their credit cards. I'm considering a home equity loan, does this make sense?

Signed, Worried Parents

A. Dear Worried Parents.
It's unfortunate that more and more people are overcharging on their credit cards. This is the phenomenon known as instant gratification. People today, myself included, don't like to wait for anything.

But, as your son has learned, using credit cards to create debt is very expensive and probably is not tax deductible. I'm not thrilled when my clients want to pay off their credit card debt with equity from a home.

Why? Well, three main reasons are:
• You're trading short-term debt for long-term debt.
• Most of the things that people buy with a credit card are nothing more than "future junk" and probably won't appreciate in value, as a home usually does.
• Once the credit card debt is gone, there is a great temptation to get into the same credit card trap.

So, at this point, I would suggest four things:

- Have your son and daughter-in-law cut up their credit cards.

- Give them a list of low-interest credit cards that can be obtained through our office, and have them transfer their balances to one of these companies or banks.

- Tell your son they need to "tighten their belts" and make double payments every month.

- And finally, encourage them attend one of my "no-work" shop "It's Not Magic—The Hidden Secrets to Money Management."

It's commendable of you to want to help your son, but it may be time to cut the "apron strings."

I know, it's hard to do. No matter how old your children get, they're still your "babies."

However, helping him learn to deal with his mistakes could be the best way you could help him after all.

Ideas for setting up an efficient home office

It is estimated that more than 25 million people who now work from home are turning that spare room into an organized office where they feel comfortable and productive, is easy and relatively inexpensive.

Finding the room to establish a home office is one of the biggest problems people face but, once the major hardware purchases are made (FAX, copier, computer, and printer) consumers should take a close look at computer accessories to maximize space, increase organization, and produce a greater level of comfort in the home office.

Computer accessories can be found just about anywhere: office supply stores, computer specialty shops, even department stores; and they can be used anywhere. Computer accessories are not just for the corporate office anymore. Anyone with a home office will appreciate the organizational, space-saving, and protective capabilities of computer accessories.

Along with some suggested computer and electronic accessory products, here are some design tips for creating a home office:

•Budget: As with any business, assigning a budget to this new venture lets one know what's an essential and what can be purchased "down the road."

•Hardware: Many manufacturers, recognizing the boom in home offices, are now designing specific products for this market.

FAX machines and copiers are smaller, computers are faster, printers are quieter. A computer, printer, and FAX machine is necessary to get started. Plan on spending from $2,500 to $3,200 for this package.

•Furniture: Choose an adjustable office chair with proper back support. Make a desk by placing a portable top over filing cabinets a which can save money, and is easy to move.

•Accessories: Monitor arms lift monitors to a better viewing angle, system stands hold the CPU vertically on the floor; both save space. A disk file stores an organizes working diskettes. A printer placed on printer legs keeps paper neat and increases desktop space. A copyholder reduces eye, neck and back strain when placed next to the monitor.

•Aesthetics: Choose products and accessories that match ones personal and professional style. The new office in the home should be a reflection of who you are and what you do. Take time to create a space that is functional, unique and, above all, comfortable.

Energy saving tips for kitchens

It's easy to save energy when you know how. Since the kitchen is one of the most frequently-used rooms in the house, it makes sense to routinely check here for simple solutions that can conserve energy and consequently decrease your monthly power bill.

Here are a few steps you can take to make your kitchen "energy friendly:"

•Keep the thermostat at 78 degrees or higher in summer, 68 degrees or less in winter. Each degree can save up to three percent in energy costs.

•Keep windows and doors closed and check for cracks. You can lose up to 30 percent of your expensively-heated or cooled air through leaks. Wherever two edges meet at doors and windows, there's a risk of leakage. The solution is to seal the cracks with a good quality caulk.

•Check for leaky faucets. A dripping faucet wastes thousands of gallons of water a year.

•Do full dishwasher loads; open the door and let dishes air dry.

•Check the refrigerator door. To prevent cool air from leaking, glue any loose gaskets or replace them if worn.

•Kitchen countertops often peel, leading to waste.

Repair by sealing with a water-resistant contact cement.

Fall is a great season for outdoor activities

How often should I fertilize my lawn? Is there something wrong with my tree if the leaves are curling? What do I do when brown patches show up in my grass?

Fall is a great season for outdoor activities in your neighborhood. And, as you stop to smell the last of your flowers, you'll want to take a walk around your yard to check on the condition of your lawn, trees and shrubs. In preparation for a beautiful yard next year, it's important you don't fall behind on the care of your lawn and landscape now!

Fall is the prime season of the year to fertilize, core aerate and if necessary to reseed the lawn, and deep-root feed trees and shrubs. Why? Throughout the year, plants in your yard are continuously processing and converting nutrients, most of which go to overall plant growth.

However, as top growth stops, the plants shift into producing roots and nutrient reserves which are used during other times of the year when the trees and shrubs are stressed.

Paul Bergeson of Lake Zurich and Rick Gruber of Palatine, both owners of local Liqui-Green lawn and tree care companies, recommend that following tips for fall care of your grass and plantings:

- As the weather cools down, it creates the ideal environment for "feeding" your lawn. Normally, two fertilizer treatments are recommended in autumn (one in September/October and the other in October/November).

The first is a weed and feed to alleviate summer germinating weeds and the later is a heavy rate fertilizer for the root system of the lawn.

- Root growth is greatest in the fall so you want your fertilizer to be high in phosphorus and potassium.

- In addition to fertilizing the lawn, fall is the key season for aerating and overseeding the lawn. This combination treatment will help to thicken your grass and loosen the soil for a better, healthier root system.

- Fall seeding works best. When there's a combination cool air temperature and warm soil temperature, you are able to encourage faster seed germination with less competition among weeds.

- Seed-to-soil contact makes or breaks the job. Seed must be able to put roots directly in the soil when it germinates or it will not survive long. By aerating—opening the soil—before seeding, you will enhance soil contact.

- Use good seed. Match the planting system to your needs.

- Keep it moist. Before and after germination, water the lawn daily for at least 21 days.

- Deep-root feeding for your shrubs and trees is recommended at least once every two or three years and only in rare occasions should you consider an annual treatment. Deep-root feeding provides your landscape plants with the necessary nutrients and energy so they can cope with mother nature's tricks (insects, disease and drought).

- Not every lawn, landscape or budget is the same, so work with your lawn and tree service to create a customized service. Some lawns may need fertilizer treatment five to six times a year, while others only require a minimal treatment.

- Make sure your lawn and landscape service provider has strong experience in trees and shrubs. After all, your yard consists of more than just grass.

For more information on the care of your lawn and plantings, call Paul Bergeson at 540-9303 or Rick Gruber at 934-1600.

Plants add value to communities

Economic value

- Landscaping can add between seven and 14 percent to a home's value.

- Landscaping can have a recovery value of 100 to 200 percent at selling time.

- A mature tree can often have an appraised value of between $1,000 and $10,000.

- Landscaping increases property values, which add to the community's tax base.

- Landscaping can speed the sale of homes by five to six weeks.

- Home landscapes cost an average of $80,000 to replace

Environmental value

- Each tree removes 26 pounds of carbon dioxide from the air each year and releases about 13 pounds of oxygen—enough to each day for a family of four.

- An acre of trees can remove 13 tons of dust and potentially harmful gases from the environment each year.

- Plants control runoff, slowing erosion and allowing water to be absorbed by the soil and returned to aquifers.

- Plants provide habitat for wildlife and recreational areas for humans.

Parrot's Cove - a family place

Pat and Henry Diebold, owners of Parrot's Cove at 26083 Spring Grove Rd., invite everyone to pay a visit to their friendly and comfortable neighborhood family bar located in Channel Lake where sandy beaches are found during the summer and snowmobiling and ice fishing reign supreme during the winter months.

The Cove's name was derived from marketing manager Dan Diebold's nickname "Parrot Head," because he is a Jimmy Buffet fan. This family owned and operated tavern offers a constantly changing list of beer brands, always featuring eight micro brews on tap.

Children of all ages will love the Parrot's Cove ice cream parlor and the entire family will enjoy the delicious items featured in the deli. There you will find a wide selection of top grade meats, cheeses, dressings, crunchy breads and buns, and the rest of the fixin's that make a sandwich a thing of beauty. Try the delectable homemade potato salad, pasta salad and all the other things found in a well-stocked full service deli.

Calling all cigar smokers! There's still a place where your favorite cigar is welcome. Parrot's Cove is where you'll find your favorite stogie and a better place to enjoy it. The Cove carries their own line of custom made house cigars. The Diebold family hand picks all the ingredients that make the Cove's cigars the best in the area. The tobacco-wise staff will help you choose the best cigar for you.

The Cove's hours are Tuesday through Thursday from 5 to 10 p.m., Friday from 4 p.m. to midnight, Saturday from 11 a.m. to midnight, and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Call (847)838-9886 for more information.

Warsaw Inn offers buffet & specials

Zubrzycki's Warsaw Inn is a family owned and operated restaurant, established since 1972. Owners Joe Zubrzycki and Bernice Zubrzycki Nemz boast of Warsaw Inn's buffet of over 80 items, along with a variety of specials.

Warsaw Inn offers many specials, much to the delight of their hungry patrons, including Early Bird for lunch and dinner Monday through Friday. On Saturday and Sunday, Warsaw Inn offers a brunch and dinner buffet. For those watching their waistlines, Warsaw Inn offers lighter fare in the soup and salad bar.

Joe Zubrzycki urges anyone who wants to host special gatherings to give Warsaw Inn a call. The restaurant has seating for 275 and can accommodate private parties from 10 to 130. Why put up with the fuss when Warsaw Inn can do it for you - deliciously! Call 815/344-0330.

The restaurant accepts large carry-out and catering orders for those in a hurry and will also accommodate group outings.

Warsaw Inn accepts all major credit cards and is wheelchair accessible.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're busy making new friends, but none of them is to a close tie's liking. A change of plans works out for the better. Be confident in your dealings with bigwigs over the weekend. However, avoid cockiness.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Instead of worrying about problems, take direct action toward solving them. You could work overtime on a project, but this adventure brings financial gain. Socializing should be put on hold. Instead, a quiet weekend at home beckons.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Immediate tasks could have you stymied early in the week, but last-minute career developments are to your advantage. Capitalize on an opportunity which arises as the week ends. Be calm, yet confident as you tackle your various projects this weekend.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A social engagement is subject to change midweek. Though a home worry seems to cramp your style, there's nothing stopping you career-wise. The sky is the limit for you professionally. A child needs advice this weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your best bet is to finish tasks at hand instead of beginning new projects. First things must come first this week. Look out for the elderly in your family and their well-being this weekend and tend to family harmony.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A pending travel plan needs further thought before making a commitment. There are certain things that need to be done around home base before taking off for parts unknown. Honor promises and remember, family is very important.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Meet extra duties in connection with a harmony.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A pending travel plan needs further thought before making a commitment. There are certain things that need to be done around home base before taking off for parts unknown. Honor promises and remember, family is very important.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Meet extra duties in connection with a club willingly. A friend could rub you the wrong way by insisting on getting his own way. Keep up with distant ties and you have a wonderful week.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Students are able to concentrate on their studies. They must remember, though, to stay away from bad influences. Partners are easier to understand but care is needed in financial dealings this weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're more yourself this week than you have been in the recent past. Career priorities should take precedence over social affairs later in the week. Be professional and aggressive at the same time.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Artistic appreciation is enhanced. Your charm opens doors and new opportunities come through friends. It's the perfect week for business dealings with higher-ups and co-workers alike.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You sparkle among friends as the limelight is yours. Others find it hard to resist your appeal or to say no to your requests. Just be charming and the world is your oyster!

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) If you need assistance on a project, you'll get the help you need from a surprising source. Some are drawn romantically to someone met through a close friend. This weekend encounter is ultimately not to your liking.

Nightmare in the dentist's chair—sure it's only a cleaning!

WARNING: THIS STORY MAY BE TOO FRIGHTENING FOR ANYONE WITH AN UPCOMING DENTAL APPOINTMENT:

It was a dark and stormy day. The smell of mouthwash, disinfectant and decaying food particles hung in the air.

"It's only a cleaning. It's only a cleaning," I told myself, as I waited uncomfortably in the large, leather dental chair and wondered just who had spit in that cup before me. Of course, it could always be worse, I thought—the chair could have stirrups.

I was nervous. And with good reason. The last time I had visited a dentist, I had to have a root canal. That's where they drill a hole through your tooth right down to your big toe, and reassure you by saying, "This won't hurt a bit. At least, not unless the nerve is still alive."

Finally, a large, stern-looking woman wearing rubber gloves entered the room, and I knew those gloves were meant for me. I couldn't blame her for wearing them. I only hoped they were fresh ones.

She told me to open wide, and then she stuck her hand and a sharp mental instrument in my mouth, as she began scraping tar and having a conversation with me. "Hmmm...haven't you been flossing?"

"Rarrghhhha." I answered, trying not to drool.

Suddenly, I felt a sharp pain, and then another, as she kept jabbing my gums with that metal instrument every time her aim slipped.

"Rowwwrrgh." I protested, drooling heavier. "WHAT?" she answered, sounding irritated.

I motioned for her to stop so I could speak English.

"You're hurting me!" I complained. "And I'm bleeding."

"Oh, don't be a baby," she growled, pinching my lip a little harder and fixing me with an evil stare that somehow reminded me of grade school. Then I remembered—Mrs. Fester. Fourth grade. The resemblance was unnerving. I shivered with fear.

She continued scraping away, and seemed to be even less careful than before. The pain became excruciating.

"ROWWWRRGGH!" I drooled again, louder this time.

She ignored me. Suddenly, I realized what she was planning. She was going to scrape my teeth below the gumline until I bled to death. I had to stop her. I grabbed her hand and yelled again.

"ROWWWRRGGHABUNGA!"

"THAT'S IT! I'm going to let the dentist clean your teeth!" snapped my torturer.

"THANK YOU!" I snapped back, as she stormed out of the room. When the dentist came in, I tried to explain calmly what had happened. "She...she...she tried to scrape me to death!" I told him.

"What's worse, I have to pay for it!" "There, there, Mrs. Abear. Maybe we should use the gas."

Oh, my God. This was a nightmare. She wanted to scrape me, and now he was threatening to gas me. I jumped from the chair and ran screaming for the door.

P.S. It took me years to go back to a dental office. That is, until I finally found a sympathetic dentist. He has just the right prescription for getting patients like me to cooperate:

Valium.

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Illinois State Medical Society President Sandra F. Olsen, M.D., addressed the 681-member Lake County Medical Society with a message of preserving patients' rights.

Olsen, president of the 18,000-member society and its first woman leader, praised the Managed Care Patient Rights Act as comprehensive, bipartisan legislation which asserts the rights of the rapidly-growing number of Illinois patients who depend on managed care plans to pay for their health care.

"Many managed care plans cooperate with their doctors to reduce health care cost without sacrificing the quality of services. But managed care plans which interfere in your relationship with your doctor in the rush to cut costs are dangerous to your health," Dr. Olsen said. "Managed care plans cannot be allowed to put profits ahead of their patients."

Olsen says her first priority as president of the state medical society is to lobby for the managed care patients' rights act legislation.

"It was first introduced in February of 1996. We knew it would be a multi-year effort," said Olsen. The act attracted more than 40 legislative co-sponsors during the 1996 session. Dr. Olsen observed that this, combined with two vital bills that did pass, proves the growing concern of lawmakers with assuring patient rights as managed care claims an increasing share of the marketplace."

The two laws passed by the general assembly and signed by Gov. Jim Edgar in July, "demonstrate how the basic right to high quality medical care can be maintained under managed care plans," Dr. Olsen said.

The two bills passed included:

- House Bill 2557 - which required insurers to pay for at least 48 hours of inpatient care for mothers and newborns following a normal delivery and 96 hours following a cesarean section.
- Senate Bill 1246 allows woman enrolled in managed care plans to select a participating obstetrician/gynecologist as their "principal health care provider" whom they can access without the obstruction of obtaining a referral or prior approval for their health plans.

Dr. Olsen says the five primary competencies of the Managed Care Patients Right Act are:

- Seeks high quality medical care for all patients
- Assures the right to choice of physician
- Allows doctors to act as an advocate for the patient
- Assures the patients and doctor make decisions based on individual health care needs.
- Provides that patients receive timely, complete information.

Victory Hospital joins forces with child advocacy center

Lake County State's Attorney Mike Waller speaks to Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan friends and faculty to dedicate the hospital's new Medical Examination Clinic for Child Advocacy facility.—Photo by Sandy Bressner

A two-year joint project between Victory Memorial Hospital and the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center has culminated in the opening of MECCA, the Medical Examination Clinic for Child Advocacy.

At a dedication ceremony Lake County State's Attorney Michael J. Waller, "the incidence of reported child abuse in Lake County has more than quadrupled since 1979. The need for a facility like MECCA to provide medical care for these children and to preserve evidence is long overdue."

The clinic, which is located within Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 North Sheridan Road, Waukegan, functions as an extension of the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. Specially trained doctors and nurses, as well as dedicated examination space, are available through MECCA. It provides a safe, child-friendly environment for the medical examination of children who may have been victims of sexual and physical abuse.

"Our commitment to the community extends beyond routine patient care," said Tim Harrington, president of Victory Memorial Hospital. "By opening MECCA, Victory is providing a valuable resource to assist the children of our community."

Reports of child sexual and physical abuse continue to rise. Statistics show that 20 percent of all girls and 9 percent of all boys experience sexual abuse before they reach the age of 18. It is a crime that victimizes children of all ages, ethnic backgrounds and socio-economic environments.

Medical examinations are an important part of the investigation of child abuse reports. Children need to have their questions answered and need to be reassured they are okay.

It is important, however, not to add to the child's trauma and stress during the investigation of the reported abuse.

"It is important that, because of this clinic, young children no longer have to travel to Cook County to receive appropriate medical examination following a suspected abuse incident," said

Harrington.

Medically, it is important to care for any injuries that may have resulted from abuse and to check for sexually transmitted diseases. And, finally, the medical examination also provides an opportunity to collect data for the investigation team. Examination findings are recorded and preserved so that the State's Attorney and other agencies can use it in their proceedings.

Children are often hesitant to discuss an abusive incident with anyone. However, there are many signs which may indicate such an experience.

This could include behavioral changes such as excessive clinging, loss of appetite, change in bowel or bladder habits, problems sleeping or nightmares, acting out, etc. Some children have physical complaints; usually these occur in the abdominal and/or genital area. People who suspect child sexual or physical abuse should call the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center at 360-6870.

MECCA is accessed through referral from the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center, Waukegan. For more information, call Laura Notson at the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center, 360-6870, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, 1-800-25-ABUSE or Kathy Saesan at MECCA, Victory Memorial Hospital, 360-3000, ext. 2488.

Actress Marcia Wallace shares breast cancer experience women's health event

Actress and comedienne, Marcia Wallace—better known as "Carol" of The Bob Newhart Show and more recently as the voice of Bart's teacher, Mrs. Crabapple, on the Simpsons—will share her own experience with breast cancer and bring her message of survivorship to Good Shepherd Hospital Oct. 26 in a special discussion of "Women's Health: Surviving Breast Cancer." Wallace will present the keynote address "What I Know Could Save Your Life" during the women's health event from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Good Shepherd Hospital, 450 W. Rte. 22, Barrington. The cost is $20 per person. Seating is limited. Advance reservations are required. Call HealthAdvisor at 1-800-323-8622.

The event is a celebration of women's health featuring registration at 11:30 a.m., followed by a luncheon and fashion show presented by Doncaster Fashions. Attendees are also invited to browse numerous displays and booths designed around breast cancer detection and women's health, hosted by Good Shepherd Hospital's Cancer Committee, numerous hospital departments, physicians, staff and support groups. Special raffles and prizes also will be available.

Wallace is one of America's leading speakers on surviving breast cancer. Recently, Wallace was featured on the cover of Life Magazine's breast cancer issue and she has been traveling the country speaking to hospital groups, women's groups and communities about her own experience. Her focus is on awareness and early detection.

She also discusses the options she faced in terms of her treatment and recovery.

Wallace's story combines personal and family tragedy with and humor to motivate women to take control of their health. She urges women to be on the lookout for breast cancer by following the recommendations of the experts: get regular mammograms, do monthly self-exams and be checked by a doctor regularly.

This first-time event is co-sponsored by the Medical Staff of Good Shepherd Hospital and Good Shepherd's Cancer Committee.

For more information or to make reservations, call Good Shepherd Hospital's Health Advisor at 1-800-323-8622.

Health Briefs

Breast cancer memorial day

As a symbol of courage and strength, women who have been touched by breast cancer are invited to release pink and white carnations from a bridge which spans a lagoon in Zion's Shiloh Park on Wednesday, Oct. 30 from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. The First Annual Breast Cancer Memorial Day—a celebration for breast cancer survivors and a remembrance of women who have succumbed to the disease—is co-sponsored by the YWCA ENCOREplus Program and the American Cancer Society, and hosted by Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2501 Emmaus Ave., Zion. The event begins at 1 p.m. in the fifth floor solarium at Midwestern. For further information, call the YWCA at 662-4247.

Grand opening

On Wednesday, Oct. 30, the Heart and Vascular Center of Lake County in Gurnee, will celebrate its grand opening. It is an outpatient center, which utilizes a unique patient focused team approach and employs state of the art technology in adult cardiovascular diagnostic testing and treatment. Several technologies will be exhibited at the open house including live transmission of a medical conference from Children's Memorial Hospital. For more information, call 336-1600.

Brunch benefits program

A "parade of chefs" from many of the Chicago area's finest restaurants and hotels will be the highlight of "A Suburban A Fare," the annual brunch which benefits Holiday Meals on Wheels for frail and homebound elderly which the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging supports through its grants and federal and state funds. The fifth annual brunch will be held on Sunday, Nov. 3 at Giorgio's Banquets, 276 E. Irving Park Rd., in Wood Dale. This year's theme is "Reach for the Stars." All proceeds from the brunch will be used for meals. The chefs donate both the food itself and their time and labor, as do the serving staff and other personnel. The fine wines served, all auction items, and other services and materials are also donated. The brunch will begin with the silent auction at 11 a.m. and the Parade of Chefs will begin serving the first courses at 12:30 p.m. Tickets are $50 per person. To order tickets call 1(800)528-2000.

Sunday, Oct. 27 the Dreamweaver Hypnosis Center will sponsor two hypnosis workshops at the Lake County Farm Bureau Building located at 70 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake. The Natural Weight Loss program will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. and the Stop Smoking runs from 4 to 6 p.m. The workshops will be conducted by registered hypnotherapists Geoff Akins and Dennis Kedzorski of the International Assn. of Counselors and Therapists. Participants will undergo three separate inductions and learn the skills for using hypnosis to successfully lose weight and stop smoking.

Each participant will receive workshop tools including an audio cassette tape and motivational support materials for use at home. Tuition for each class is a $40 donation, portions of which will be donated to the American Heart and Lung Assn. To register, call 333-8222.

Community update set

The Healthier Community Project of the Barrington Area will hold an update for the general public on Tuesday, Oct. 29 from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, 401 E. Main St., Barrington. A free supper will be served as part of the meeting. The purpose of the update is to inform the public on the progress of works groups who have been meeting over the summer months to discuss issues concerning family, youth, communications and education. During the second part of the meeting, the public is invited to present and share information on other community projects.

Free copies of two of the work groups products—"Communications Tool Kit" and "Area Youth Events Calendar" will be distributed. For reservations call, Syl Boeder at 842-4321.

GSH offers free trick-or-treat candy x-ray

Halloween is around the corner and it's not too early to consider ways you can make trick-or-treating safer for your children.

Good Shepherd Hospital once again is offering free trick-or-treating safety strips. These brightly colored safety strips are self-adhesive and can be wrapped around children's arms or applied directly across their backs to add to their visibility. To remove, simply peel the strips off. A list of safety tips also is included with the strips to help children have a happy Halloween.

To order free trick-or-treat safety strips, call Good Shepherd's HealthAdvisor line at 1(800)323-8622. Be sure to request enough strips for all your trick-or-treaters.

As an additional community service, Good Shepherd's radiology and diagnostic imaging department will x-ray Halloween candy free-of-charge on Thursday, Oct. 31. Parents who want treats checked should call Good Shepherd at 381-9600, ext. 5191, or bring the candy to the hospital between 3 and 10 p.m.

If the radiology department is unable to x-ray the candy as soon as it is brought in, receipts will be given so parents can pick up the treats later that evening or the next day.

Medicare safety net has large mesh

JAMES F. WALSH

If you're nearing your 65th birthday, you're probably looking forward to getting your Medicare card. And you're probably thinking that you'll soon have one less thing to worry about, especially if you're paying your own health insurance premiums.

True, Medicare is one of the greatest things that ever happened to senior citizens. In the 30 years it's been in existence, it has been a major factor in promoting longevity, simply because it allowed many poorer seniors to get medical attention sooner, before the minor health problems became major ones.

As you probably know, Medicare covers 80 percent of eligible charges from health care providers. Back in 1966, when it went into effect, that meant that the other 20 percent was a mere pittance by today's standards. Ten- or 15-dollar doctor visits were the norm, and hospital stays generally cost less than $100 a night. With 80 percent of the bill taken care of by Uncle Sam, most people could afford that 20 percent co-payment.

Beginning in the 1970s and continuing up until the early '90s, the cost of health care was skyrocketing. Today, the average cost of a day in the hospital is more than $1,800 and $40 or $50 is about the norm for a routine doctor office call. Paying 20 percent of any hospital bill or any other form of health care was becoming prohibitive for nearly all but the wealthiest. It has been around since the early days, but in the 1970s, it became almost imperative that people buy Medicare supplementary insurance from a private insurer. These policies generally picked up the 20 percent of the bill not covered by Medicare.

As with anything involving money, abuses began creeping into the supplementary insurance market.

Fast-talking salesmen began selling coverage to seniors that duplicated what they already had. Other policies were so narrowly drawn, they were all but impossible to collect on.

Congress finally acted to put an end to the abuses and, in 1991, passed a law establishing 10 different, standardized levels of so-called Medigap insurance policies. Insurers could offer any one of the standard coverage, or all 10. But, beginning in 1992, no other forms of Medicare coverage were permitted.

Congress didn't mandate premium levels, so you'll have to shop around before you select coverage. In general, the level A though J increase in premium and benefit levels. A level A policy, for example, doesn't cover the deductible for your first day in the hospital, currently $716.

For a slightly higher premium, you could get level B insurance, which would pay the deductible. A and B don't cover care in a foreign country, the rest do. The distinctions between levels are often slight, so read the insurers' literature carefully before you select.

With health care costs being what they are, Medigap insurance is a "Must."

from 6-8:30 p.m.

A costume contest for ages 3-10 will start at 6 p.m. A large bonfire is planned at 8:30 p.m. For more information or to volunteer, call the park district at 356-6011.

In Round Lake Beach, the Round Lake Area Police Explorer Scouts will be operating their third annual Haunted House, Oct. 27 from noon to 8 p.m.

The event offers costumed characters and visual and sound effects at the Round Lake Beach Police Department building located on 916 W. Rollins Road.

A number of local businesses as well as the village, donated to help make the event possible, explained Round Lake Beach police corporal, Debbie Rundle, advisor of the Explorer post.

For months cadets made up of boys and girls ages 14 to 21 worked on the project. Candy will be handed out to all going through the haunted house. The event is free to the public.

Round Lake Heights is putting together a hayride and pig roast on Oct. 26, to help raise funds for an aerator for the village detention pond.

The event will be held from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the village hall grounds, 629 Pontiac Court, Round Lake Heights.

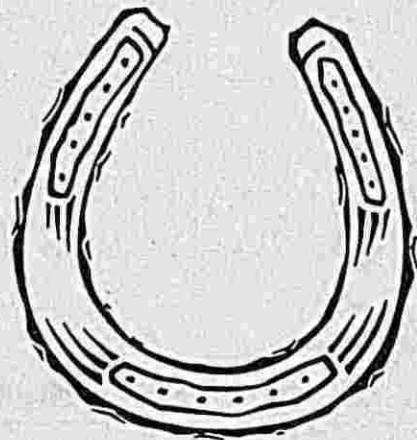

There will be games for the kids, a raffle for $100 worth of gasoline, a scavenger hunt, and a pumpkin carving (bring own pumpkin already carved) and costume contest. Cost is $5 for adults, $2.50 for kids under 12.

In Fox Lake, there will be "Haunting Happenings" at the Second Federal Savings and Loan, Oct. 25, from 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and then on Oct. 26, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The event is co-sponsored by the Camp Fire Boys and Girls. Enjoy a Mystery Maze, bob for apples and make a Halloween craft.

In Woodstock, there will be a fantasy-type family play at the Woodstock Opera House.

"Halloween Happening in Schmoogieland" will take place Oct. 26 at 2 p.m. and again at 6 p.m. All seats are $7. Call Madonna Maze at (847) 694-1106 for more information.

'Voters can't lose' say candidates in 52nd Dist. race

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

"The people of the 52nd district can't lose in this election."

This friendly statement was made by Robert Boness, the Democratic nominee for state representative seeking to replace Al Salvi, who is vacating his office in hopes of representing Illinois in the U.S. Senate.

Boness, of Round Lake Beach, and Mark Beaubien, the Republican nominee from Barrington, have taken to meeting the voting public the last few weeks before the Nov. 5 election.

Last week the two dueling at a debate held in Beaubien's stomping grounds hosted by the League of Women's Voters, and then later met in Boness' surroundings at the Round Lake Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

The two had a friendly discussion before Round Lake officials and business owners, complimenting each other and never offering any negative comment about their opponent.

Beaubien said he was looking to be elected as state representative, a position he thought about running for four years ago. He says he will stay in elected office only for the next six years, keeping a promise he made to his family when he originally ran for the Lake County Board in 1992, and then for supervisor of Cuba Township, both positions he still holds.

If elected, Beaubien said he has five major goals he intends to work on in Springfield and for the constituents in the 52nd District, which includes all of Avon, Wauconda, Fremont and Cuba townships, as well as most of Grant Township and the northwest portion of Elmhurst Township.

Among his goals include the managing of state funds, maintaining a strong economy, public safety, education and welfare.

"We have got to keep this program working,"

Beaubien said of welfare, something the state is thinking about dropping in the laps of townships.

Boness said he was honored to be asked to run as a Democrat to serve the residents of the district.

"They have provided me to be an advocate of education, and that is what my main focus is for running," Boness said.

Salvi, Durbin close in a final weeks of battle

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

As the campaign season heats up in the final weeks, Lake County native Al Salvi and longtime Illinois Congressman Dick Durbin are making contrasting appeals to the hearts of Illinois voters.

Among the hottest issues in the campaign appear to be their contrasting positions on gun control and how to fund education.

With ads flooding into Illinois homes via the television screen, voters are often faced with the task of sorting out the truth in each candidate's position.

"Al Salvi is not against the Brady Bill (for handgun control)," said chief aide Charlie Johnston. "He favors the instant check and the reduction of crime by getting criminals off the street and keeping them locked up."

Durbin favors the Brady Bill and the Clinton Crime Bill, often considered controversial by Republicans. Durbin worked with Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois in drafting legislation which stopped convicted felons from purchasing handguns.

Both candidates seem to agree that the answer to fighting crime is keeping criminals incarcerated and off the street.

"My priority as a U.S. Senator are clear... fighting crime with tough laws that put more cops on the beat, keeping criminals behind bars and keeping weapons of war off the street," said Durbin in a prepared statement.

The questions lies in how to accomplish that goal.

Both are calling for better truth-in-sentencing laws. Salvi says he would favor an extension of the Brady Bill if more effective legislation is not approved by Congress prior to its expiration.

Salvi feels the Brady Bill really accomplishes little in Illinois because Illinois laws were already stiffer, according to Johnston.

One major difference in point of view are the candidates' positions on the right of citizens to carry concealed weapons.

Durbin is against such legislation, except for law enforcement and security personnel for use on the job.

Independence Grove developing into 'gem'

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Regional Editor

Lake County Forest Preserve commissioners have fielded many calls about the flurry of activity north of Route 137 between the tollway and Milwaukee Avenue.

With excitement, commissioners report that the activity is the development of Independence Grove, which is in the process of being transformed from a gravel pit into one of the forest preserve's prized pieces of property.

In two years, the forest preserve hopes to open the 1,100-acre "gem" near Libertyville.

With St. Francis Woods to the north, the Des Plaines River to the west, and a 113-acre lake in the center, Independence Grove stands to be one of the most diverse conservation and recreation parcels in the forest preserve holding.

"It's quite a unique site that blends active recreation with passive recreation," noted Steve Messerli, executive director of the forest preserve. Several commissioners and planners visited the site to see its progress.

At its completion, Independence Grove will feature a Visitor's Center offering concessions, meeting rooms, gift shops, and restrooms, as well as sandy beaches, boat launches, fishing, scuba diving, picnic areas, playgrounds and ball fields, gardens, and an outdoor plaza that will provide seating for outdoor theater and other events.

It's time for final harvest

Before the snow flies and we are housebound, content to pour over gardening catalogues and periodicals, there are some gardening chores to be accomplished.

If you have not seeded the bare spots in your lawn yet it is probably too late. The seeds will not have enough time to take root before the hard winter frost. You can chance it though, I've had seeds sprout after they were insulated under a blanket of snow. Remember to keep leaves from accumulating on the turf as they hamper the grasses' root system, so compost those leaves!

Fall is a good time to fertilize the lawn with a fall fertilizer, which will give it a headstart in spring. Remember to water shrubs, trees, perennials and evergreens if we do not get an inch of rain per week. We want them to go to sleep with enough nourishment so they will survive their long winter's dormancy.

Weary of covering my tomato plants (to protect them from the night's cold) and uncovering them in the morning's light, I finally gave in and plucked them from the earth.

So, if you have an abundance of green tomatoes, bring them indoors to ripen. Harvest all tomatoes of good size. Wash them and allow to dry. Separate the ones that are beginning to ripen (those that show red) from the green ones. You can wrap the green ones in newspaper and pack them in a shallow box or tray (no more than two deep) to hasten ripening. I store them in the basement work room where it is cool.

Gardener's Journal

by Lydia Huff

Green mature tomatoes will ripen in four to six weeks if kept at a temperature of 55 to 70 degrees. Check them every week. They are not as luscious as the first red tomatoes from our summer garden, but they sure beat the tasteless winter tomatoes purchased at the grocery.

If you have too many to store, you can enjoy them in numerous ways. Try making a green tomato salsa, pickle them, use them instead of cucumbers for a green tomato relish. Let's not forget fried green tomatoes! I make a green tomato bread similar to zucchini bread. Here is the recipe:

Green tomato bread

- 3 cups finely chopped green tomatoes
- 1 cup oil
- 3/4 cup honey
- 2 eggs beaten
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 3 cups flour
- 1 1/2 tps. baking powder
- 1 1/2 tps. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. ground cloves
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 1 cup raisins

Beat together the oil, honey, eggs, and vanilla. Sift together the flour, baking powder, spices and salt. Combine the two mixtures, and stir to blend. Add nuts, raisins, and green tomatoes. Place in greased loaf pan and bake in preheated 350 oven for one hour.

Enjoy! Until next week, peace.

Ureche proves an inspiration to many in special education

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Inspiring fellow teachers as well as her students was what made Marjorie Ureche a memorable educator to the hundreds of students and their families who attended Sally Potter school until it closed last year.

The impact the teacher had on the Special Education District of Lake County was recognized as staff dedicated the Ureche Early Childhood Center at Laremont School in Gages Lake.

"She was the one who encouraged me to get into administration. I used to joke to her that I was perfectly happy in the classroom," Sharon Hill, a SEDOL supervisor, said.

Ureche served as teacher and principal at SEDOL's Mundelein school for 27 years. The new center will serve children ages three to five years old. Ureche died in 1993.

"She encouraged each child to be the best they could be and be happy with themselves," Tom Bartels, Laremont principal, said.

Ureche served as teacher and principal at SEDOL's Mundelein school for 27 years. The new center will serve children ages three to five years old. Ureche died in 1993.

"It was just her dedication to parents and students. She did not stop at 3 p.m. She was my mentor and always caring for someone," Hill said.

"She looked forward to seeing the kids and watching them progress. She enjoyed helping the kids learn and was very concerned about the well-being of the kids," Paul Ureche, Majorie's husband, said.

He said his wife would have been humbled by the naming of the center. Her granddaughter, Marjorie, age 1, appeared to have a good time riding on a small swing.

"She would think she was not deserving of this honor," he said.

The staff and parents gathered for the Thursday dedication and tree planting earlier - they know better.

SEDOL is a special education joint agreement organized to provide cooperative program planning, instructional programs, related services, and inservice training to assure an appropriate education for children with disabilities from age birth to 21. There are 37 school districts within SEDOL boundaries.

Peterson promises more financial aid to schools

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

School districts in the 26th State Senatorial Dist. of south and west Lake County can expect 11 percent in new state funding next year.

That's the pledge of State Sen. William E. Peterson (R-Long Grove), who is enjoying the luxury in this hotly contested election year of not having to campaign. He was reelected two years ago to a four-year term.

The veteran Republican's district includes parts of Grant and Vernon townships, and all of Avon, Wauconda, Fremont, Cuba and Ela townships.

Peterson spoke out at an annual fundraising event in his honor held at Marriott's Lincolnshire resort. Peterson, a former teacher, said reelection of GOP majorities in the Senate and House Nov. 5 are vital.

"There will be no Chicago reform without a straight Republican team in Springfield," he declared.

He said Republicans are doing an excellent job grappling with the age-old question of school finance reform. "We have a four year window to do the job," he averred.

Among speakers at the Peterson testimonial were GOP Congressmen Phil Crane (8th Dist.) and John Porter (10th Dist.). "I hope we can see Sen. Peterson in office as long as he wants," Porter declared.

Sen. Majority Leader Pate Philip of DuPage County also spoke at the brunch attended by an estimated 350 persons.

NICASA Women and Children's Center impresses Porter

U.S. Rep. John Porter, R-10th District, said the Women and Children's Center of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) is a program that should be preserved.

Impressed by the testimony of five women who have made exceptional progress in their recovery from drug addiction at the North Chicago-based center, Porter said "It really is a wonderful program. It's something we've got to preserve."

The women, who shared their stories with the congressman and two of his aides, have made "amazing progress," Porter said. "You've become disciples for helping other people."

Pam Thompson, the programs director, introduced these women who spoke to Porter:

Lisa, the mother of four children and a February graduate. A recovering cocaine addict who started using drugs at age 14, she said she has been clean for 27 months. Of the staff, she said, "They showed me how to love myself." "I love this program."

Nicolette, who graduated Oct. 10. She told Porter she started using drugs at age 14 and had been through four treatment programs. She's making great progress in recovering, adding that in addition to treatment for her addiction she has obtained her GED and Job training through the program. "I know NICASA will be here for me."

Ronnie, the mother of five children and a client since March, "My life before NICASA was depressing," she said. Ronnie had begun using drugs at age 12 and said she didn't trust anyone. At first, she viewed the program as sort of a jail sentence. "My initial thought was to come here, do my time and leave." Ronnie, who had given birth to a cocaine- and marijuana-positive baby in October 1995, credits the program for helping her turn her life around. "NICASA is a family I never had."

A second Liza, the mother of three children and a client since October 1995. A heavy user of marijuana, she told Porter she was in denial when she began the program. "I had an elitist attitude," she said. "I thought, 'These people here are sick.'" Liza credits Carolina Nute, clinical program director, with teaching her "how to survive every day" and for providing "tough love." Of the program, Liza said,

Porter

"NICASA helped me face a lot of fears."

Ilona, the mother of four children and a recovering crack cocaine addict. She said the child care portion of the program "has been very important in our recovery." Being clean for four months may not seem like a big deal, she said, but it is to someone who had been a drug addict for 22 years. "I never knew life could be so good," she Ilona said. "I've never had so many good decent people in my life."

Judy Fried, NICASA's executive director, had invited Porter to tour the facility and meet with staff and clients. Although the three-year federal demonstration project which funded the start-up of the program ended Sept. 30, she told Porter the program is still in operation because of support from foundations and some Lake County corporations.

Porter and his aides were moved by an eight-minute video that includes a graduation ceremony for the program's first graduate, Sharon E., of Zion. "Boy is that something," Porter said of the video. "It brought tears to my eyes."

With Porter were his press secretary, David Kohn and staff assistant, Mary Beth Hartmann.

AT A GLANCE

Pudding plan raises eyebrows

MUNDELEIN—The homecoming committee at Mundelein High School came up with a unique way to announce the homecoming queen and the school's first homecoming king during the Friday afternoon assembly. Youthful exuberance left a bad taste in the mouths of some who thought homecoming events should be handled with more dignity. Instead of floral boxes that contained roses of a different color for the queen, candidates faced buckets of chocolate pudding. One contained a cherry for the queen. King candidates were told to sit on balloons. One of them was full of whipped cream.

The temptation was too much for the kids, and soon many of them were covered in the sticky stuff. Many faculty members were appalled, but Principal John Davis was philosophical.

"The plan itself was not a bad plan. How could you anticipate girls would start rubbing pudding on each other?" he said. —by SUZIE REED

Community searches for child

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The search for a lost little Round Lake Beach girl brought a community closer together. When 6-year-old Alyssa wandered out of her parents' sight Oct. 20, she probably didn't know it, but many would soon gather to look for her.

While getting ready for work, Linda Sanchez called for her little girl and got no response. Her husband Ignacio hadn't seen the child either.

Alyssa suffers from Downs Syndrome, and while she attempted to wander off before, she had never gone much further than the front yard, said her mom.

After looking high and low throughout the home, and the property, the couple became frantic. "Everything under the sun was going through my mind," said Linda.

After two hours of being gone, she was found. "She was in the house all the time!" remarked Linda. Alyssa was discovered around 7:30 p.m. by her aunt Dawn who found her as she slept underneath a small table in her bedroom. —by TINA L. SWIECH

Die is cast for top cop

LIBERTYVILLE—Village staff and board members welcomed Patrick W. Carey as the new head of the Libertyville Police Department. Deputy chief of the Glenview Police Department for almost 10 years and a resident of Lake Zurich, Carey will move his family to Libertyville, and is looking forward to becoming part of the community.

"When I heard Chief McCormick was retiring I decided to compete for the position," he said. "I had my fingers crossed."

Police work has evolved to become only 20 percent dealing with crime and 80 percent service to the community, Carey said. He joined the Glenview department in 1976 as a career change that propelled him through the ranks to the position of deputy chief. Ready for more responsibility, he is looking forward to working with the village that has a reputation for progressive government and a professional police force. —by SUZIE REED

Howl promises fun for all

ANTIOCH—The Village of Antioch is sponsoring their Third Annual Halloween Howl Oct. 25, 26. The event is geared to provide a safe Halloween alternative. There will be plenty of activities in the downtown area for all age groups including the Happy Ghost, Happy Haunted Graveyard and Smiling Spirit Area for children. Games, a moonwalk and carriage rides are also available at no cost. In addition, the "Tunnel of Terror" and Dracula's Cave are revised. The hours are: 4-10 p.m. Oct. 25 and from 1-6 p.m. Oct. 26. There will be brochures available showcasing the events and a loudspeaker will announce where things are located. The event ends with a costume contest and a bonfire with a professional storyteller. —by ALEC JUNG

Gurnee to raise officials' pay

GURNEE—Pay rates for elected officials in Gurnee will likely be on the rise.

Gurnee trustees will consider a schedule of increases proposed by Mayor Richard Welton at the Oct. 28 board meeting. The date is significant because any changes in pay must take place 180 days before an election, this one in April.

"If you are in office, you would not see the increases until the next term," Welton said.

A survey was done by staff on compensation in Buffalo Grove, Grayslake, Highland Park, Libertyville, Lake Forest, Mundelein, Waukegan, Vernon Hills, Gurnee and Lindenhurst.

"We should not be the highest or lowest - we should be what is fair and reasonable," trustee Mark Ratfelders said.

Trustees suggested pay by the meeting with an average of the Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills salaries. Libertyville will pay $4,800 a year in 1997 to trustees; Mundelein $5,376 and Vernon Hills $4,827. —by STEVE PETERSON

Firemen hold Haz-Mat drill

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Fire Department held a hazardous materials drill on Oct. 22 along with 20 other fire departments from Lake and McHenry counties.

The drill took place at Hydrite Chemical Co., 800 N. Oakwood Road, where firefighters simulated a hazardous materials spill to allow the participating departments time to go over the different mitigation procedures that they use during hazardous materials emergencies, said Capt. John Kelly of the Lake Zurich Fire Department.

"The primary objective is to be prepared if and when an accident happens at that facility," said Chief Terry P. Mastandrea.

In the simulation, a tanker truck has a broken valve on the rear of the vehicle, and is gushing out a "chemical," which in this case was water mixed with green dye, Kelly said. "It was nothing that is harmful or anything," he added.

More than 60 firefighters from 20 fire departments from Lake and McHenry Counties participated in the drill, with the cooperation of the Lake Zurich Industrial Council's Community Awareness—Emergency Response Committee and the Lake County Fire Departments Specialized Response Teams—Hazardous Materials. —by SPENCER SCHEIN

Wadsworth subdivision OK'd

WADSWORTH—After six years of waiting the developers of Jonathan Knolls subdivision have finally been granted approval of their final planned unit development following presentation of a letter of credit in excess of $1 million to the village from Fox Development to begin grading work.

The 136 acre Jonathan Knolls parcel at Route 41 and Kelly Road is currently vacant. The developers plan to build 62 estate homes ranging in price from $450,000 to $650,000 on the land.

Other projects built by the group include Eagle Ridge in Antioch, Ivanhoe Estates near Mundelein and Dutch Creek Estates in Johnsburg. —by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Village, Twp. host cleanup day

WAUCONDA—A Fall Cleanup Day is being organized for the residents of the Village of Wauconda and Wauconda Township on Saturday, Oct. 26.

The village conducted a cleanup day earlier this spring at the request of residents who were seeking ways to get rid of large, bulk items.

That cleanup day was a success, and Wauconda Trustee Paula Soderman suggested the village hold another on, only this time involving Wauconda Township residents.

James P. Keagle, supervisor of Wauconda Township, was supportive of the idea, and suggested the parking lot at Township Hall as the drop-off location.

Residents of Wauconda, Island Lake, Volo and unincorporated areas of Wauconda Township will have an opportunity to get rid of items and materials which are not accepted as part of the standard curbside refuse collection programs.

The collection will run all day, with arrangements available for the pick-up of items for residents age 62-years or older. —by SPENCER SCHEIN

Mansion may be housing

LAKE VILLA—A possible senior housing complex may be coming to the an 88-acre parcel which houses a historic mansion. Landmark America is seeking to construct a mix of townhouse and luxury apartment complex for senior citizens only. The property is east of Rte. 83 and about two miles north of Grand Avenue. The site includes the Lehmann Mansion, built in the early 1900s by E.J. Lehmann. Landmark America is looking to refurbish the mansion and use it as the social center of the complex with a pool, community room, library and eating area. Lake Villa Trustee Joyce Frayer said the plan offers "zero impact to area schools." Landmark America will be before the Plan Commission seeking concept approval of the plan. —by ALEC JUNG

Third Lake grant denied

THIRD LAKE—The Village of Third Lake has been denied a $130,000 matching Illinois Environmental Protection Agency grant to dredge and aerate their lake.

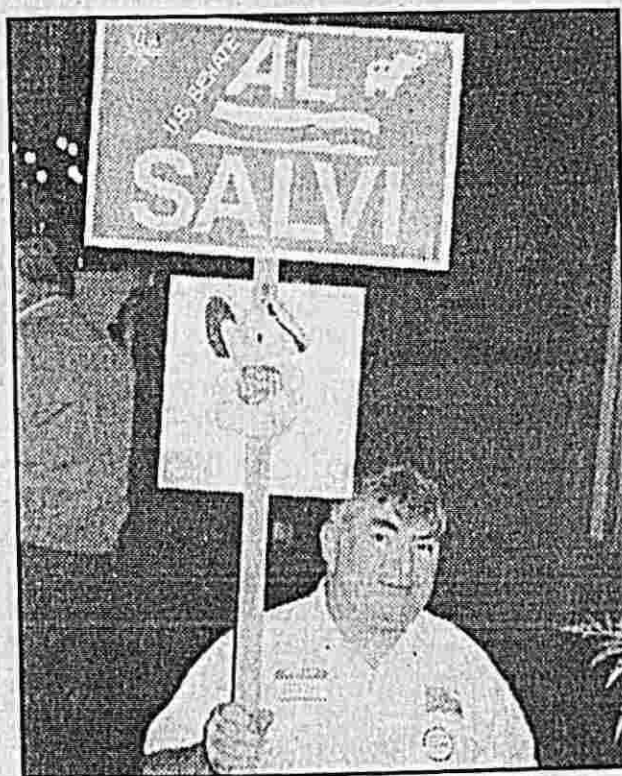

In the IEPA grant proposal the village was to fund half of the $130,000 grant to dredge portions of the lake outlined by the Lake County Health Department as those that would be most beneficial.

Village President Karen McCluskey noted the residents seemed to feel if they were going to go ahead with the project minus the grant they should address the possibility of dredging the entire lake.

Village President Karen McCluskey explained the board will go back to the residents now to see what the general consensus is.

Residents at the October board meeting prior to announcement of the denial noted if the partial dredging wouldn't return the lake to its condition of 20 years ago they wouldn't mind the extra expense to do the whole job.

Third Lake was to be dredged to alleviate an accumulation of algae on the bottom and the aeration would keep the water circulating and improve the aquatic environment for the fish and prevent further algae problems. —by ELIZABETH EAKEN

'True' citizen legislators gain our endorsements

Lakeland Newspapers expresses viewpoints on candidates for the Nov. 5 general election of U.S. House of Representatives, state representative, state senator and county offices this week.

Crane represents district

Congressman Phil Crane (R-Dist. 8) represents the views of his district now more than ever. He is an elder statesman who is in touch with the views of his constituents and a leader in congress. His lack of a viable opponent in the general election is a testament to his record. He gains our endorsement.

Porter is clear choice

Congressman John Porter (R-10th) is fast becoming a senior leader in Congress whose voting record mirrors the desires of his constituents which are not always the desires of his party.

Porter has our endorsement as a man who clearly casts votes with the will of the people in mind.

A matter of record

Republican incumbent Verna Clayton (R-Dist. 51) is running against an unknown Democrat Hyman Rieberman to retain her south central Lake County seat in the State House. Clayton's service to her district is a matter of record. This is likely a twilight tour and we urge Clayton to carefully consider her position on challenging issues for her constituents such as the extension of Rte. 53.

Beaubien gets the nod

Mark Beaubien has the experience and background in legislation to make a difference on the House floor. If he takes a lesson from his predecessor, Al Salvi, central and western Lake County can look forward to being well represented. Democrat challenger Robert Boness is a virtual unknown who has done little to gain the attention of voters. Beaubien gains our endorsement.

Gash serves her district

Lauren Beth Gash (D-60th) represents her primarily Democratic district very well. She is an independent and bipartisan voter whose record shows she will vote with the desires of her people.

Her Republican opponent Joel Gingiss is a credible candidate and a true warrior to his Navy fighter pilot background. But, this is not his race. Gash's record is hard to beat. She gains our endorsement.

Moore unopposed

Churchill should continue Republican House Majority Leader Robert Churchill (R-Dist. 60) has the opportunity to make a difference for Lake County with his senior status in the state house. We urge him to continuing tackling tough issues such as education reform and bring back answers for Lake County students. Democratic challenger Robert Molinaro III of Zion has done little to gain the attention of voters in this secure Republican north central county district. Voters should keep Churchill in Springfield.

Link for Dist. 30

Lake County Democratic Party Chairman Terry Link is a natural fit for the diverse 30th district in the state Senate. Link born and raised in the 30th district understands all of its constituents from the streets of North Chicago to the mansions of Lake Forest. He is in touch and will represent the needs of this south eastern Lake County district well.

Republican Tom Lachner is the party anointed successor to David Barkhausen. As a freshman legislator Lachner had the opportunity to be an independent thinker, but he has chosen to follow the party-led path. His candidacy has suffered from self-inflicted ethical lapses.

Link gains our endorsement.

Geo-Karls unopposed

Lake County's grand dame of politics is unopposed in her efforts to maintain the Dist. 31 state senate seat and she should be. Geo's record speaks for itself and it's easy to see why no Democratic is ready to waste the effort challenging her in this north central county district. She gains our endorsement.

Coffelt for circuit clerk

Sally Coffelt is a known quantity who has done an exceptional job serving the people of Lake County as clerk of the circuit court. She should be retained over her Democratic opponent Jackie Jones.

Incumbents unopposed

Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson and State's Attorney Michael Waller are both running unopposed in the general election.

Both have served the county well without a hint of impropriety. Both have faced increasing workloads as the county grows and both have met each challenge head-on in their high profile positions.

Voters must make choice

Lake County voters have a choice between two very different and polarized candidates for Recorder of Deeds.

Bob Neal represents the Lake County Republican machine. He has a long resume in politics. This used to be considered a prerequisite for taking on greater challenges, but many voters don't necessarily feel that way today.

Neal has the contacts and the background to do a good job in the office but he also has the party baggage.

Democrat Mary Ellen Vanderventer has a fine record of service in county government as election administrator for 10 years and gives the voting public an opportunity to loosen the GOP stranglehold on county government.

Voters face a difficult decision between two diverse candidates both of whom have the potential to do well in a strictly administrative office.

Some thoughts along the trail of the rapidly waning 1996 election campaign:

*The practice of staging Presidential "debates" ought to be abandoned. The events are so contrived and orchestrated that they serve no purpose.

*Dole supporters suffering from polling OD can take solace in how the 1948 campaign turned out. Two weeks before election Republican Thomas E. Dewey was accorded an easy winner by the media. Harry Truman kept on campaigning undaunted—and won at the wire!

*Republican Bob Neal is running a high tech campaign in the quest for Lake County Recorder of Deeds, even to the extent of using the Internet. Neal has a web page. Address: <http://mall.ind.com/bobneal/home.htm>. His opponent, MaryEllen Vanderventer is using more traditional methods like the telephone and mail.

*At this stage, Republicans know how Democrats felt when Mike Dukakis was running against George Bush.

*Unless Congressman Dick Durbin shows up in the next few days, he will join the list of Democrats running for high office who refuse to include Lake County on their campaign trail.

are dragged to the county building as part of the voting process.

*Durbin writes and talks wistfully about his difficult soul-search for giving up a seat in Congress for the challenge of running state-wide for the U.S. Senate. Fact is the decision was easy. Durbin was reelected in 1994 in a hard-fought battle and faced almost certain defeat in 1996 if he had sought reelection.

NO FUN—For U of I grads who also are Chicago Bear fans, the 1996 football season has been a big bummer so far. All of us can hardly wait for the Bulls and basketball Illini to start their new season.

FINE FALL—The residual of a wet and wild spring has been evident with the rainbow of color provided by well nourished trees and shrubs. Has Lake County's fall foliage ever been more striking? This is one season it wasn't necessary to dash off to New England or northern Wisconsin "to see the colors."

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Erika and John have their grandfather hooked on joining them for video watching sessions. "Aladdin" moves pretty fast. "Cinderella" is more pop's pace.

Wonders about drugs

Editor:

While smoking is undesirable and unhealthy, most would agree with Al Salvi that smoking legal cigarettes is preferred over crack, etc.

Why is it that there was no outcry from Dick Durbin or his press secretary when it was reported that numerous White House staff were refused FBI security clearances because of recent drug use?

Negative races

Editor:

Each race seems to be more of the same old thing, with more personal attacks and less issues, with the exception of one candidate for the position of Lake County Recorder of Deeds.

I am so impressed with the type of campaign Bob Neal is running. His opponent seems to focus more on attacking Bob Neal than telling us about herself. Bob Neal, in the press and on the occasion I saw him in person, seems to try to tell us about his background, experience, and positions on the issues.

The way each candidate runs their campaigns is a reflection of their character. On that basis, Bob Neal has earned my vote.

Character does matter

Editor:

Mary Ellen Vanderventer and Robert Neal are placing their applications before us, the voters, in their quests to seek the position of Lake County Recorder of Deeds.

Their political party or church affiliations on their resumes don't matter. Their prior job performance does matter. How they interact with people does matter and how they supervise people does matter.

Vanderventer scores superior with me when I evaluate her job performance as a supervisor in the position of elections administrator for Lake County. Bob Neal does not have the character to match Vanderventer's. His job performance raises doubts about his ability to maintain a high quality public office as he certainly has not been a stand out as a tollway board member.

Lee for environment

Editor:

Each year the bipartisan League of Conservation Voters issues an environmental scorecard for the Congressional year. In 1995, Congressman Don Manzullo voted anti-environment on every environmental issue and personally scored 0% on the rating scale.

Catherine Lee, who is opposing Manzullo in the race for the 16th Congressional District, feels strongly about enforcing environmental laws necessary to keep our air and water clean and safe. Stewardship of the earth is everyone's responsibility and, once elected, Catherine Lee promises to maintain strong environmental protection.

PARTY LINES

Bar members applaud Kids' Korner supporters

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Lake County's courts center was a beehive of activity Thursday afternoon for the dedication of the Giving Tree Plaque, a list of donors to Kids' Korner.

The facility, a former jury deliberation room, is a privately supported waiting room for children whose parents are involved in court proceedings.

Since Kids' Korner opened two years ago nearly 4,000 children have been served. Circuit Judge John Goshgarian was credited with sparking the project when he served as chief judge.

Circuit Judge Jane D. Waller, president of the Lake County Bar Assn., presided over the dedication of the Giving Tree, located on a wall in the courthouse near the Washington St. entrance. The plaque was made possible through a donation by Glenda Schueneman in memory of her late husband, Jim, founder and CEO of Coral Chemical Co.

Judge Waller said spouses have played a big role in making Kids'

Korner a reality. She mentioned her husband, Mike, who is Lake County state's attorney; Stephanie Foreman, wife of Fred, a former U.S. District Attorney and former Lake County state's attorney; Karen Hall, wife of Judge David Hall, and Atty. Cathy Wifler, wife of Peter Wifler.

Other key workers thanked by Judge Waller include former bar president, Mary Clark; Judges Block, Rossetti, Gilleran-Johnson, Franks and Mullen.

Slate forming—Suzanne Simpson, in announcing plans to oppose Supervisor Robert Depke in the Warren Township election next spring, said she is forming a slate of community-minded citizens to contest the incumbents.

Simpson is Warren Township Republican chairperson. She and her husband are co-owners of a Grayslake auto parts business.

Inside help—Reports of irregularities in the conduct of Warren Township business are being shrugged off by officials. "What's wrong with nepotism?" asked one Warren insider when asked about hefty salaries paid by former Highway Com. Frank Thomas to his son and daughter-in-law. Investigations are continuing, including a search for missing time cards.

Foreign territory—Democrat Dan Pierce, former state representative and ex-mayor of Highland Park, got a chuckle out of the Republican eyebrows he raised at the annual brunch for GOP State Sen. Bill Peterson at Marriott's Lincolnshire.

"I'm representing a client," Pierce explained. "Besides, Bill is a former colleague in Springfield and our friendship goes back to his school teaching days when he was a principal in Highland Park."

Network foe—County Republican Chairman John Schullen is blasting television network news anchors at every opportunity these days. Always gets a rise out of the party faithful.

"We're going to send Dan Rather and the pollsters a message Nov. 5," insists Schullen, who is much more spirited and animated these days. No Billy Sunday, though.

Bashing—Besides a Democratic opponent, Republican Congressman John Porter has to ward off combat fatigue these days. His voice has become noticeably raspy as the campaign winds down. Porter goes Schulien one better in bashing the biased networks. "We're going to 'knock the socks off' Rather, Jennings and Brokaw."

Indee star—State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park) has won listing as the most independent legislator in the Illinois House or Senate in the 1996 "Almanac of Illinois Politics," a publication of the University of Illinois.

Single issue—Allen Stubitsch running for mayor of Mundelein may be the ultimate single issue candidate. Make that two issues. Stubitsch is steamed that Mayor Marilyn Sindles dropped the economic development ball by planning to replace a shuttered Kmart with a flea market. Stubitsch, 31, is a leader of Mundelein's anti-Rte. 53 movement. Sindles ran unopposed last time.

Impartiality important

Editor:

We should ask why the voters continually re-elected retiring Recorder Frank Nustra. Frank Nustra held this office for all this time because he was a man who ran this office fairly and impartially. Not with a flair but with a purposeful effort to treat everyone as equals, never being partisan.

On that level, Mary Ellen Vanderventer should be the considered choice over Bob Neal. Just compare Mary Ellen's 10 years as elections administrator in the Lake County Clerk's office with Bob Neal's various positions in government. Both Republican and Democrat election judges will vouch for Mary Ellen's impartiality and her commitment to good government...she never "drew lines" between the parties and served both equally and well. Mary Ellen is also well-known for her pleasant attitude and her even-tempered disposition, some of the things we'd like to see continued in the Recorder's office.

Political harrassment

Editor:

My 17-year-old daughter along with a friend and our two other sons were in Deerfield, distributing literature for Joel Gingiss, candidate for State Representative.

After lunch they were accosted by some of Lauren Gash's supporters. They harrassed our children by stating, "Aren't you embarrassed and ashamed to be passing out this literature?" My daughter, wishing to avoid a confrontation with these so called adults, decided to just leave the area. She got in her car and drove to the next street where her friend and our 9 year old son we distributing, to pick them up. She noticed some "adults" talking with them as she pulled up. Again the line "Aren't you embarrassed, don't you feel ashamed?" This time it wasn't just an overzealous campaign worker, but Lauren Beth Gash herself. As my daughter told the others to get in the car, Rep. Gash began harrassing my daughter as well as the others. Again, showing more maturity than the "adults," my daughter just left the area.

Rep. Gash is proud of her support of the rights of children in court, but her actions seem to show that she believes they have no rights on the streets of Deerfield. She and her workers are the ones who should be ashamed of their conduct. What kind of a lesson in democracy does this teach our children?

Marks' record praised

Editor:

Martha Marks takes the time and effort to bring us up to the minute news, good or bad, from the Lake County Board and helps us in the strategies necessary to improve the problems. She uses her good offices on our behalf on many occasions and many times without our even knowing. I recall the numerous wintery nights when Martha Marks came to Buffalo Grove Village meetings on our behalf while many of our residents were away in warm climates. She was one of our main supporters in fighting off the increased density in the area just to our south.

Marks has been a strong voice in our favor on the Lake County Forest Preserve Board, and our advocate in particular on the Lake County Board in so far as flooding, congestion, and overbuilding is concerned. We should not only be proud to have her as our representative, but we should give Martha Marks the moral and physical support of a grateful community. The only effort now is to vote for her.

Soccer mom strikes back

Editor:

Being labeled as a soccer mom is degrading. Not that there's anything wrong with having kids in soccer - I have three - but the connotation is that we are so busy that we don't have time to read newspapers, or learn the facts and issues.

Please join me in trying our best to show the nation that Soccer Moms don't fit this image. If we are busy with our children and families, it is because we care so much about them. And if we care about them, we surely should make this election - and all elections - a big, big priority.

If you look at all the positive parts of the "Soccer Mom" image, you will know our voice in the country is an important one. The Soccer Moms are the nurturers of our future citizens. We really are the bearers of this nation's family values.

I personally believe that Bob Dole is the candidate that encompasses all the "Soccer Mom" values. He is honest and sincere - qualities we try so hard to instill in our children. In all the years of public life, he has been virtually unscathed by scandal. Bill Clinton is involved in so many scandals it's hard to keep count - dozens for sure. He is a smooth talker, and finds it easy to make a point whether it's true or not, but these are not leadership qualities that are appropriate for the Presidency. Mr. Dole is morally and ethically a good person. Mr. Clinton's morals are questioned in several sex-related scandals. Mr. Dole is a good role model for our children.

Leader for noble future

Editor:

The last few decades we have seen our country, once firmly established on a Judeo-Christian philosophy, being led down a road that has tried to promote the idea that government programs can replace personal responsibility and even religion. This social experiment is doomed to failure as it has failed throughout history, no matter what culture or civilization.

Citizens who thirst for true change in government would do well to look at Al Salvi who is seeking election to the Senate seat for Illinois. Salvi can be described as a bleeding-heart conservative; a person who believes you can be traditional, responsible and compassionate. Salvi is a father who believes it takes a family and not a village; a representative who will defend our freedoms and liberties with the clear vision of common sense; a Catholic who lives his faith by supporting the positive "culture of life" verses the brutal violence to the unborn.

Al Salvi alone will not turn our country around; that will still remain our personal responsibility. But leaders lead, and Al Salvi can lead us to a more noble and proud future.

Damage of new housing

Editor:

Headlines out of Round Lake reported cries of help from the Round Lake Schools. More headlines out of Round Lake cried that the Pritzker deal is done—adding another 1,800 new homes. Does anybody else see an irony here?

Most of the additional students produced by the latest splurge of new homes will go to Big Hollow and Grant, but do you see the problem?

When will we learn? Prior officials in the Round Lake area promoted growth, and the fact is development does not pay its way. Not now, not before, not ever.

At the town meeting, when they complained to Senator Geo-Karis and Rep. Churchill, (the very legislators that tried in past sessions to block the Lake County Forest Preserve's attempts to keep land open, which would reduce enrollments and taxes) their complaints fell on deaf ears.

There are very few fighters left on the County Board, and there is not much that can be done from the county perspective when it comes to a development like Pritzker. But look at the battles Suzi Schmidt had with Round Lake Heights and the Fairfield Marsh area, an area that affects Grant, Round Lake, and the Lake Villa schools. Fortunately that property has no plans for development at this time.

Pasquinelli Homes has now moved to another site in Round Lake Heights with 275 projected new homes. So Round Lake Heights "can grow too." The tax short-fall over a 20 year period amounts to a minimum of $50,000 per home or over $13,000,000 in increased new taxes for Round Lake.

And, on the average, only 66 percent of the Lake County property tax is allocated to schools. What if you were a businessman and you saw all that red ink coming?

Most of us do not think about how schools are financed. Complacency makes it easier to ignore than act. And, the state has been doing their share of ignoring and passing "band-aid" solution. It's time for a revolution in school financing, and it's time for the communities to pay attention to the damage that new housing inflicts on you and your family's money.

In the future, there may be an environmental "Discovery Center" for natural resource education and exploration, and a more developed water park.

In addition, miles of trails will meander through the site as well as on the perimeter. The external trail will be for bicycles and roller blades, while the internal trail will be for pedestrians.

"This is going to be a destination along the Des Plaines River. People will be coming from the north and south to stop here for a few hours," Messerli said.

Forest Preserve Commissioner Carol Calabrese also pointed out that other local forest preserves such as Liberty Conservancy will be linked, providing bike trail access from Grayslake preserves.

"The public in Lake County is going to benefit greatly when this opens," said Calabrese, who praised the forest preserve staff for handling most of the preliminary work on the site.

Lake County Grading Company mined the property for years before selling and donating pieces of land to the forest preserve over the last 20 years.

The estimated price tag to fully develop Independence Grove is $8.5 million. The forest preserve, however, has received $2.8 million in mining royalties over the years, and $1.5 million is available from the 1993 referendum.

Messerli pointed out that the Lake County Grading has helped grade and manicure most of the site. It also will install a 500-space parking lot for about $2 million worth of work at no cost to the forest preserve, Messerli said.

The mining and processing operations are slated to conclude by November, 1997.

"There's no more gravel to be mined," Messerli insisted. "By December of next year, he's out of the site."

serve staff is interviewing architect firms to design the massive Visitor's Center planned for the site.

As part of the overall financial picture, Independence Grove will be the forest preserve's first enterprising preserve. Revenues will be generated through entrance and parking fees, boat rentals, concessions, picnic rental, meeting and banquet rentals, and merchandising.

"Revenues will offset expenditures," Messerli said of future budgets. "We've been very creative and innovative in terms of making this self-sufficient."

Between its blend of active and passive recreational opportunities along with its self-sustaining financial structure, Messerli said Independence Grove stands to rate with the forest preserve's other prized possessions and be a model for future preserves.

"Some call it the gem of the Lake County Forest Preserve," Messerli said. "It's at least one of the jewels in the crown of the forest preserve."

Save-A-Life focuses on youth education

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The effort to educate youngsters in the importance of cardiopulmonary resuscitation continues to grow and has received some financial assistance as well.

The Save-A-Life Foundation for Kids addresses the skills that ages 4 through 12 need to know.

"The program has been shortened to one hour and that is convenient with school curriculum. It teaches them to recognize an Emergency Medical Professional," Carol Spizzirri, Save-A-Life organizer, said.

With the help of the mascot "Perry Medic", in grades Kindergarten through second, students learn how to access the EMS, scene safety and to control bleeding.

In grades three through five, students learn about assessing EMS, scene safety and bleed control review. Opening an airway and the Heimlich Maneuver are also taught.

In grades six through eight, accessing EMS, scene safety, bleed control, opening an airway, Heimlich Maneuver review and early heart attack care are stressed.

The Oak Forest and Palos Heights fire departments have piloted SALF Kids to over 1,000 students in their local schools with overwhelming success. The St. Charles Fire Dept. signed on this year.

"It will prepare them for hopefully being able to save a life," Larry Swanson, St. Charles Fire Chief, said. Spizzirri began Save-A-Life Foundation after her daughter Christina died in a Park City car crash on Labor Day, 1992.

"The Oak Forest fire Department has always been supportive of programs for children whether through fire safety education or life saving medical programs," Oak Forest Fire Chief Jim Berger said.

The Niles Fire Department, in its 50th year of ambulance service, has adopted a "Bystander Basics" program. Morton Grove and North Maine Fire Department districts out of Des Plaines area have also adopted the program.

The cause has gained the support of the Illinois Parents Teachers Assn. It helped develop Save A Life for School Personnel.

Some 32 schools on the north side of Chicago are using the Save A Life For Kids program through Northwest Neighborhoods Federation.

The Chicago Fire Firefighters and other unions also support it.

Abbot Laboratories Fund gave a contribution this September. "They have graciously supported our efforts and it is a generous contribution," Spizzirri said.

Salvi

Salvi believes in a limited concealed carry law where law-abiding citizens would be issued permits to carry concealed weapons after a thorough background check. The permits would be issued similar to a driver's license with renewals necessary.

"Al believes that for some individuals because of the nature of the jobs or the areas in which their place of employment are located, they may find it necessary to carry a concealed weapon for protection," Johnston said. "What he truly believes, however, is that if we as a society can keep criminals off the streets, citizens would not feel the need to carry concealed weapons. What he favors is making the streets safer."

The Salvi campaign cites examples in several states where the enactment of a concealed carry law has reduced crime.

They also disagree over education funding proposals. Durbin cites the need for the federal government to increase funding for student loans to ensure middle class students can afford higher education. Salvi favors the abolishment of the U.S. Department of Education and devoting the money spent by the "bureaucracy" to books and teaching. He says access to student loans has dropped since the Carter administration created the Department of Education in the late '70s.

Sworn-in two weeks before election

After being sworn in as the new District 52 State Representative, Mark Beaubien and his wife Dee greet Green Oaks Mayor Tom Adams at a reception at the Country Squire in Grayslake. Beaubien replaces Al Salvi in the state house. Voters will have the opportunity to keep Beaubien in Springfield when they go to the polls Nov. 5. He is being challenged by Round Lake school board member Robert Boness. Beaubien is the Cuba Twp. Supervisor and will resign his seat on the county board Monday. —Photo by Sandy Bressner Mark Beaubien was appointed this week to fill the 52 district seat in the State Legislature vacated by Al Salvi.

Beaubien was sworn in by Lake County Circuit Court Judge Charles Scott, a long time family friend, at the Country Squire in Grayslake Oct. 22, the same day Salvi resigned from his state office.

"I am honored to have been chosen to fill the Salvi vacancy," he said. "But I in no way take the voters for granted."

His words speak to his campaign as the Republican nominee running for Salvi's State Representative seat.

His appointment comes exactly two weeks before voters will go to the polls Nov. 5 and choose between Beaubien and Democratic nominee Robert Boness of Round Lake Beach in the general election.

"I intend to campaign even harder to earn the confidence of every citizen of the 52nd district," he said.

Salvi resigned his position to devote his full efforts to his campaign for the U.S. Senate against Dick Durbin.

The Illinois House of Representatives will go into a November veto session after the election. If Beaubien wins the race, he will not be able to serve until January 1997, when new members are allowed to take office.

If Beaubien had not been appointed, the 52 district would have without a vote in the veto session.

His appointment was made by a panel of area Republicans, consisting of Lake County Republican Chairman John Schulien, Donna Mae Litwiler and Richard Kosner.

In a related manner, Beaubien has announced he will not seek reelection as Cuba Township supervisor if he is elected to the state legislature.

"It was never my intention to hold the position of township supervisor while serving in the State Legislature," he said. "If the voters select me to serve as their State Representative, then I will devote my full, undivided attention to representing their interests in Springfield."

Beaubien is also scheduled to tender his resignation as Lake County Board commissioner for Dist. 17, representing Cuba Township and the southern portion of Wauconda Township, in a special meeting to be held Monday, Oct. 28.

The county board is scheduled to appoint Stevenson Mountsier to fill Beaubien's unexpired term.

Candidates

Boness is a member of the Round Lake Unit District school board, and has gone on record as being an advocate of overhauling the state funding process of education and putting an end to unfunded state mandates.

Both men would be open to bringing a riverboat casino to Lake County, as long as the residents of the community where it go agree. Beaubien has gone on record as being against gambling, and said he would not take an active role in bringing a boat to the district, but would do all he could do if that is what the people wanted.

If a boat did come to the area, Beaubien said the money raised for education from the boats should be handled differently.

"It is intended for education, but they put it in the top of the bucket, and lower the bottom of the bucket," he said.

If boats do come to Lake County, Boness said he would be against one coming to the Chain O' Lakes, one site mentioned as a possibility along with Waukegan.

"I support expanding the licenses, and not just for specific areas such as Peoria or Joliet," he said. Zion, North Chicago and Waukegan would be better places for the boats, Boness said, as they would draw people from Wisconsin who gamble in casinos on Native American reservations.

Studying several habits of everyday first-class folks

No, this is not a column about folks who fly in the first-class cabin on airliners. It is an attempt to look at the habits of folks who are first-class everyday in every way all of their lives.

I believe that first-class folks are made, not born. Being a first-class person is not dependent on having money, living on the right side of the tracks or being born with a fine, old-family name. It is not a matter of being politically correct, being well-connected politically or looking like a movie star. It doesn't have anything to do with skin color, educational level or age.

Perhaps an example or two will help illustrate my view. Recently, I visited my favorite doctor's office and after signing in took the last empty seat. An elderly woman came in a moment later and signed in. As she turned to look for a seat, a young man leaped to his feet and insisted that she take his.

A first-class fellow.
A few days later, I was working my way to the front of a long line at an airline ticket counter when a rather pushy man crowded in ahead. The woman in front of me—who had finally reached the head of the line—turned to me with a surprised, quizzical look on her face. However, instead of making a scene she simply shrugged and said softly, "I guess he's in a hurry." I nodded in agreement and thought to myself, "first-class lady."

First class qualities

- First-class folks are courteous. They temper their actions with respect and consideration for the rights of others. They find it less stressful to be nice rather than nasty.

The Bible tells us that the meek shall inherit the earth. First-class women and men will be among the largest land owners.

• First-class folks have positive, optimistic attitudes. They go to work fully expecting to have a great day. They believe that every problem has a solution and that the best is yet to come.

There is a good deal of evidence that we eventually become what we think about and focus on. Therefore, dwell on the positive and move up to first class.

• First-class folks are well educated. No, I don't mean to imply that you must have a college degree or be a PhD to be a first-class citizen. (Some highly-educated folks develop an inflated sense of self-worth and are neither first class nor enjoyable to be around).

First-class folks may have very little formal education. However, they never quit learning just because they stopped going to school.

• First-class folks are aware of what is going on around them. You won't catch them cruising at 55 mph in the left-hand lane of the Interstate or stopping in the middle of airport walkways to check their tickets. They don't leave their shopping carts in the middle of the aisle at the grocery store.

They keep their head in the game. They understand that all actions have consequences, so they stay alert to ensure that the See FIRST-CLASS page C9

First Midwest breaks ground in Grayslake

Thomas J. Schwartz, president of First Midwest Bank, NA's North Metro Banking Division, broke ground for the construction of a new full service banking center at Rte. 83 and Washington Street in Grayslake. With an anticipated opening date of April, 1997, plans call for the construction of a 4,500-square-foot facility with three drive through lanes and one 24-hour automatic teller machine (ATM) lane. This office represents the 11th Lake County office in First Midwest Bank, NA.

The interior design, will allow clients to move through their banking activities quickly and easily, while also providing increased privacy and personalized attention. This design will allow for specifically designed merchandising with specialty areas for commercial activities, personal banking, investments and mortgages.

"Our ultimate goal with our unique bank design is to handle our client's financial needs in a prompt and professional manner each time they enter our facilities," stated Schwartz.

Fall often ideal time for landscaping

GLORIA DAVIS
Staff Reporter

It's fall planting time, the ideal time to completely landscape the area around a new home or to reshape and enhance the outside of an existing yard and/or garden.

Maybe just adding a few new shrubs or a new shade tree to an already landscaped area is what one has in mind.

For ideas on achieving the outdoor look one has always wanted, a visit to the winding paths and demonstration gardens at the Mill Creek Nursery, at 40960 Mill Creek Rd. in Wadsworth, is in order.

There one can rest in the picturesque gazebo while choosing from the myriad of plantings immediately available.

This is one of the few places that customers can actually look at landscaping ideas on the grow. The knowledgeable nursery staff will be glad to guide customers on a tour through the winding paths of their beautiful, professionally designed and planted gardens.

All the plants growing for the six years the nursery has been at this location on this 45-acre site are tagged for the customer's information, and where possible they will be hand-dug to be transferred to the customer's garden area.

Available are larger three, four and five inch caliper shade trees, purchased in Oregon and in the ground at Mill Creek for up to five years. These are the kind of hardy, healthier trees that will enhance any yard for generations to come.

According to owners Mike Greco and James Belli, "Nursery stock that is grown locally is preferable because these plantings are used to the same climate and soil consistency."

The nursery's professional staff will help customers choose from hundreds of shade and ornamental trees and shrubs and evergreens, as well as the wide variety of woody plants and perennials available at the Mill Creek Nursery.

If it's the unusual one is in search of, Mill Creek offers Katsura trees and clumps, Ironwood Trees and clumps and Gingko trees and clump plants, as well as Fothergilla shrubs and Clethra, plus many more, to bring that custom look to any garden area.

All the planting have been done under the direction of Mike Greco who has a degree in horticulture and 18 years of experience in the business of landscape designing behind all his ideas. His partner, James Belli, handles the business end. They believe in only selling plants that they grow and know.

Mike Greco Landscaping, originally out of Northbrook, and their professional plantmen are available for any professional landscaping job, large or small.

All plants installed by Greco Landscaping are guaranteed and will be replaced if they do not thrive when planted.

Mike's dad, Joe Greco, who just couldn't stay retired, runs the garden center, on a daily basis, making this a family run business.

At present, a 3,000 sq. ft. greenhouse is under construction at the nursery and garden center for propagating plants during the winter so they will be ready for planting in the spring.

Mill Creek Nursery and Garden Center is open Tuesday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For information call 838-0501.

Midwest manufacturers may be success in fourth quarter

Midwest producers are well-positioned to take advantage of growth abroad as U.S. exports will remain a bright spot in an otherwise sluggish fourth quarter, said Diane C. Swonk, deputy chief economist of The First National Bank of Chicago.

"Exports from the heavy manufacturers industries of the Midwest will lead gains for the nation," Swonk said in her monthly First Forecasts newsletter.

Swonk projects First Chicago's Great Lakes Index (GLI) will grow 2.3 percent during the fourth quarter, substantially below its second-quarter growth rate of 5.0 percent and the anticipated third-quarter rate of 3.8 percent.

The nation's economy—measured by the Gross Domestic Product—also is expected to slow, to 3.0 percent in the third quarter and 2.0 percent in the fourth quarter.

The Great Lakes Index, created by First Chicago, measures the total output of goods and services within the five-state region of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

"Growth aboard—and the resulting growth in U.S. exports—will be paced by considerable strength by America's largest trading partners," Swonk said. "Canada is expected to pick up after a disappointing first half; Japan is having its best year since 1991; and Mexico is rebounding convincingly from its recession. In addition, there are good signs for other Latin American countries and improved prospects for Europe."

Wheel Deals winners announced

To celebrate the new automotive section, Wheel Deals, Lakeland Newspapers awarded Bahamas vacation packages to four lucky winners. Mary and Agward Turner, Melissa Krause, Bill Simons and Sheryl Dempsey registered to win their vacation package with area car dealers: Reed Randle Motors in Waukegan, Marquardt Motor Sales in Park City, Raymond Chevrolet and Olds in Antioch, and Sandy McKie and Sons Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge in Fox Lake.

The winners will enjoy a five-day, four-night stay for two at Taino Beach Resort and Yacht Club in the beautiful Bahamas, as well as a round trip cruise aboard SeaEscape Cruises from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. to Freeport, Grand Bahama Island. In addition to the trip to the Bahamas, winners also received three nights accommodation in Orlando, Fla. and a complimentary one year membership in the Trek International Travel Club.

Lakeland Newspapers is proud to continue its forty years of service to Lake County residents.

First-Class

consequences are positive.

There are many other identifying characteristics. First-class folks are slow to anger, limit their excesses and work hard to improve every aspect of their lives. They appreciate good humor, make the best of bad situations and are quick to help others.

I hope I have not misled you to believe that the first-class folks are perfect. They aren't. They are human, make mistakes and have bad days.

Despite their faults, they are pleasant folks to be around. I hope you'll join me in aspiring to move up to first-class.

Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Noise, noise

How come communities and homeowners aren't being informed by the government and FAA that the 30-mile radius around O'Hare is going to be declared a noise defective area? When homeowners go to sell their homes, they must state that their home is in a noise nuisance zone. I think in the future they plan on sending Stage 3 aircraft, huge 747s over our area capable of carrying 1,200 passengers. They're going to be much louder than they are now. It seems we have no say in this. People haven't been informed. Call your Congressman and state representatives in your village to complain about your property values being decreased.

Vote for me

If I was elected president, I'd propose to eliminate property tax, combine the state and federal income tax into one tax to be split equally by the federal and state government. To offset this loss in revenue, we would legalize and decriminalize and regulate drugs, gambling and prostitution.

Disastrous

Clinton promised a balanced budget, vetoed two, but signed an unbalanced budget. This budget states all illegal aliens who have AIDS will be afforded medical aid at our expense. This could have every country with an AIDS problem dumping their AIDS patients on our shores.

Do the right thing

Recently we see in the newspaper that J. and Robert Pritzker are on the Forbes most wealthy list again. Why are the Big Hollow taxpayers going to pay for a school for the Pritzker's proposed development? They ought to donate the land, build the school, and donate the personnel. They can benefit by having a tax write-off and look like the philanthropists they should be.

In cahoots

We contacted Sen. Peterson about airplane noise and he said there was none and no one else had been complaining. Maybe it's not over his house, but it is over other houses in the suburbs. It seems like the Republicans and Democrats are in cahoots with the airlines.

Keep kitties in

This is to all the humanoids who let their cats roam around. I just passed a dead cat in the middle of the road. If you people would keep your cats indoors where they belong, this wouldn't happen.

Clarification

I'm calling in regard to the "No Fun" message that went in about the regatta boat race. We were the grand champions in the race and were not sponsored by a corporation. We paid our own $20 and we are not a Minneola hangout. I just wanted to clarify this.

Extra help

I'd like to respond to "Looking good" at McGee Middle School. There is no new custodial staff, it's the same as always. The difference is the district got tired of the whining and crying and added an additional four-hour person they were told was needed. If all the other schools were allowed this, then they would all look good. But they aren't allowed the additional help, or the overtime.

Enough's enough

I'm calling about the new industrial park and multi-family housing project that's slated to be built in Lindenhurst. The words exciting and unique were used to describe this project by a village official. A better choice would have been expensive and burdensome. This is just another sellout to the developers that will result in more children in the Millburn School District and higher taxes for homeowners. It will also throw more cars onto Hwy. 45. Lindenhurst has enough multi-family housing for a village of this size. Why couldn't they have just left it as an industrial park; it would have been non-polluting and resulted in revenue for the village.

Taxes too high

I'm a resident of West Trails in Grayslake and I'm calling to complain about the terribly high assessments and high taxes. Every year we have major increases and taxes are astronomical. Everyone should go to their assessor's office and protest the taxes. I think we're being charged way too much in property taxes.

Get a bus

I'm calling about the busing in the Manor. Thirty-five years ago I had to walk my son to Woodview School; he was four years old. We had no sidewalks on Lake St. It ended up where we got in a car pool and we hired a bus that we paid monthly. If these people are concerned about their kids, why don't they get together and pay for a private bus?

Unsafe practice

I was just calling to report what I believe to be an unsafe practice of parking cars on the sidewalk. It's not safe for pedestrians or kids who are walking on the sidewalk.

Dirty politics

The charge is made by the chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee against the Democratic candidate, claiming he had never paid child support on a marriage that ended 15 years ago. It turned out these charges were false. It just goes to show how disgusting politics in Lake County really are. Politics in this county are as filthy as any big city in the country.

Sick of liberals

I'm calling in response to "Self absorbed" in the Oct. 4 Lipservice. I'm so sick of you bleeding heart liberals who say that Republicans aren't helping the social services. Why should I go to work for 40 hours a week so that some welfare recipient can snort cocaine up his nose? I think it's about time we get this changed!

Don't join league

This is to the Lake Villa Timberwolves youth football president. How come you started the league saying all would have equal playing time when they don't? Did you not sign a code of ethics stating athletes first, winning second? And when you were able to get a donation from your millionaire friend, which you gloated about, you were able to purchase a lot more uniforms, have parents pay registration fees and not play See LIPSERVICE page C11 kids equally.

I've seen it

This is to all the kids who called in saying it wasn't teenagers destroying Grayslake's Centennial Park. Sorry, but I have seen kids in the park acting rudely, smoking, swearing, and rollerblading along the steps, destroying the wood and flowers. You say that there's nothing else in Grayslake to do, that it's a constructive, athletic sport, and it's better to skateboard than be in a gang, etc. Why don't you be constructive and get together as a group to petition the village into finding a space for you to participate and compete in your activity? If you're sick of having no place to go, do something about it besides whining and destroying beautiful property. Remember, you have a voice—raise it! And if you see your friends or anyone else disrespecting public property, stand up for what's right.

Salvi's wrong

Al Salvi is the wrong choice for Illinois for these reasons: Because he is behind in the polls. In desperation, he continues to resort to false, negative ads against his opponent using his own five kids for political commercials; he did not make a complete tax disclosure as promised on April 16; and he favors a concealed weapons law. Therefore, we need a strong man like Congressman Durbin in the U.S. Senate.

Football gripe

I really did not want to call and gripe about Grayslake's freshman team; however, what happened at last week's practice was the straw that broke the camel's back. When two captains came strolling into practice late and didn't run after practice, which has been the rule all year, there is a disease that's beginning to be spread. The captains have a duty to the team to be leaders and are not exempt from the rules of the team. Another bad thing is that the freshman team's been told they're not doing things right, but yet the coach does not praise the team when things do go right.

Tired of vandals

This is to the parents in Villa Heights and Cedar Lake Park subdivisions in Lake Villa. Where are your kids after midnight? They're vandalizing my house! I'm tired of it. I hope those kids don't ever stop looking over their shoulders.

It's not us

I'm calling in response to the "What a shame" message on skateboards. I'm a skateboarder and I have talked to the guys with the orange shirts at the village hall and I've busted my butt to pick up cigarette butts and smashed bottles. I fell and cut my hand on a broken bottle and it really aggravated me. If one of the people I hang around with was causing trouble, I would take care of it. It's not us. We respect the places we get to skate and we keep them up. Residents, please get together and find us a place to skate.

Give it up

This is in response to the person who keeps complaining about the sports bar in Round Lake Heights. Get a clue, obviously no one else is upset about it because they're not complaining. That place has always served alcohol, so you must be bored.

Thanks, teachers

I'd like to thank the teachers at Gavin North. A weekly newsletter is sent home about what the kids have been up to. My hat's off to them, they're doing a wonderful job. Even though I can't be in the classroom, because of the newsletter, I feel like I am.

Don't feed birds

This is to the people who feed their leftover McDonald's to the poor seagulls in the parking lot of Wal-Mart. That food is not fit for those animals. Please do them a favor and put your food in the trash, where it belongs.

Tell us about it

I'm calling because I'm disappointed at the amount of information given in the police beats in the paper. A couple of weeks ago, a friend spotted a man looking through her windows. The man was never apprehended by police and there have been other incidents that happened over a two-week period, none of which have been reported. Why aren't we aware of what goes on in our communities? Editor's Note: Information is released to reporters after an incident has been cleared from investigations.

Appalled

I'm calling about "Quit whining." Are you for real? The law requires our kids to be in school. It's the parents' concern that our kids get to school safely. I worry that my kids get on their bus on time and that the bus gets safely to school and home. On my block, the kids go to all different schools. There's no chance of car-pooling, friends and relatives don't always live in the area, and how easy is it for someone to change jobs to meet your school's needs? Especially single-parent families. I couldn't believe those kids were being forced to walk to Woodview School from the Manor. It's a long and dangerous walk for young children. I'm appalled at the school district. These parents aren't whining, but are concerned about a situation that would only change after tragedy occurs.

Show respect

On behalf of myself and other mothers of teenage children, I'd like to say that the Round Lake police officers should practice what they preach when dealing with teenage children. If they want respect, they should show it. As for the language barrier, it's obvious they share that problem.

Jim's honest

In regard to the Fox Lake trustees, I'd like to respond to what's going on with the check-writing scandal and the need to put Jim Pappas down. There's such a thing as an honest trustee, and Jim Pappas is it.

Won't get my vote

I will not vote for Al Salvi. He's just another slick, rich lawyer that doesn't want anyone else to have all the privileges his money affords him. Sure, Mr. Salvi is pro life. He can afford to have as many kids as he likes. And should Mrs. Salvi ever feels she needs an abortion, she can afford the best and safest one money can buy. Sure, Mr. Salvi is pro guns. He can afford to live in a secluded area, with a security system, isolated from violent elements of society. Yes, Mr. Salvi wants to dismantle the Dept. of Education. He can afford to send his kids to any school he wants. Of course he'd be willing to help us send kids to parochial schools by voucher. But those who believe in separation of church and state would be forced to hear

Christian rhetoric, or get an inferior education.

So special

Well, the statistics are in. The S & L bailout of the Reagan years cost the taxpayers $480 billion. Of course, the rich just declare bankruptcy and all us working class pick up the tab. And Dole wants to bring back Reaganomics to us all. Isn't that special?

Going downhill

Service by the United States Postal Service continues to get worse and worse. When I moved into my house in 1970, we got mail delivery at 10 a.m. Now it's 4:30, or 5:30 if we're not lucky. In the last month, I've sent three priority mail packages in New York City. None of them have been delivered or returned by the postal service. Yet the postal service spends millions on radio advertising promoting just how great it is. The federal government has just signed a $22 million contract with Federal Express for the delivery of government overnight mail.

Griefnotes

You can help in a number of special ways. Through reaching out and offering support in the form of listening and presence you will help a great deal. Ask your friend how they are doing. Mention the deceased by name and allow the bereaved to continue discussion about the deceased if they wish. Many bereaved report feeling isolated. You can help by including them in your social groups. Contact with the grieving

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

As a Director of Personnel for a large corporation I tend to interview 30-40 persons per week. I am amazed by how many individuals will cuss, swear and use tainted language during the course of an interview. Please let your readers know that a slip of the tongue could cost you the deciding vote on whether or not a company will accept you for employment. Some corporations have a stringent hiring process. Our corporation, as do many, makes it a point to take notes during the interviewing process. You would be shocked at how many potential employees are turned away because of unsuitable, slang, or harsh language spoken in the interview. Perhaps printing this will help people realize they have been one of these individuals and enable them to curtail this the next time they interview for a position with any employer. Thanks for your informative column and for listening.
J.E.—Deerfield

Dear J.E.,

Thank you for your input. It is no question that an individual while interviewing should be aware of his or her language. Yes, it is amazing how often a 4 or 5 letter word will slip out of someone's mouth and they are totally unaware of its impact on others as well as themselves. Strong and undesirable language does not belong in an interview no matter how comfortable you may be in that interview. Be on guard! The employer or employer's representative taking notes is taking notes for a reason. The reason is pros, cons, desirable and undesirable factors. Before you open your mouth to speak...collect your thoughts and be sure that what is coming out of your mouth is what you intend for the employer to hear.

Dear Search,

I am one male in a department with 3 females who are into "male bashing." Each day I sit and listen to these women and I am sick of it! I have let them know how nasty they sound and how frustrating it is for me to have to sit and listen to this each day. Our boss is male and most likely unaware of what is going on. I would like it to stop! They read your column each week while on break. Perhaps when reading this one, they will realize how rude and immature they are acting, and how hurtful some of the things are that they are saying even though they are not directed to me. Sign me...

Frustrated in Libertyville

Dear Frustrated,

I don't blame you for the way that you feel. If you think you are frustrated...imagine how miserably frustrated these women are to have to carry on this way. They say that "misery loves company." Let them know how you feel and that you would appreciate them putting the "male bashing" to rest. If that does not work, try reminding them that it was a male who got them their job. Good Luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy Sakol c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

PET OF THE WEEK

Nyla

"Nyla" is a sprayed female, black chow mix. This 18 month old is most unusual, adorable smaller mid-size dog. Nyla has a chow's dense, shiny coat that's soft and wooly to the touch. She reminds us of a little bear cub. Nyla also has perk ears, a fringed short curled tail and a pretty, alert face.

Housebroken when she came to the shelter, Nyla simply adores people. Extremely affectionate, she loves to have her tummy rubbed and when you pet her, she will "hug" you, by leaning into your legs. Nyla has a puppy-like personality and loves to play. Responsive without being jumpy or hyper, she will be a wonderful companion in the right home. Nyla has a few special needs: she must be the only dog, does not like cats, and prefers adult companionship. If you are looking for a smaller, playful, loveable people-oriented companion with a beautiful face and coat, please come and see Nyla. She's been waiting in Cage 49, for someone to adopt her, since October of 1994.

Cash $55 donation includes free spray/neuter, collar, tag, leash, first shots, follow-up care, and much more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. - 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call (708) 945-0235 for further information.

WILLIAMSBURG

WILLIAMSBURG

The Williamsburg is a modest sized house plan that delivers more for your building dollar. This attractive compact home could be the ideal buy for a couple beginning retirement, or just buying their first home. Economical to build and maintain, this three bedroom home combines excellent use of the available space.

This beautiful home not only has a unique floor design, but an attractive exterior that enhances the considerable curb appeal.

The entry leads directly into the spacious great room. There is plenty of room for a full complement of furniture, giving you a perfect place for entertaining your visiting friends or family. Sliding glass doors open onto a back patio where you can set up a barbecue on a warm summer day.

Along with all the built-in appliances, the functional walk-in kitchen features a handy eating bar and is adjacent to the dining room.

The two bedrooms have ample closet space, and share a full bathroom and linen closet. For a young family, perhaps one of these bedrooms can be utilized as a sewing or music room, study or small office.

The placement of the utility room near the garage is large enough to handle laundry chores, yet not be condemned to the garage.

The nice sized master suite occupies the front right corner of the floor plan, to complete this design, with a generous sleeping area, walk-in closet and a private bath.

For a study kit of the WILLIAMSBURG (406-23), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. BOX 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

NATURE'S BOUNTY

Safety First On Halloween

1. Instead of trick-or-treating, ask your parents to plan a Halloween party for neighborhood children and friends.

2. If you do go trick-or-treating, go only to houses of people you or your parents know.

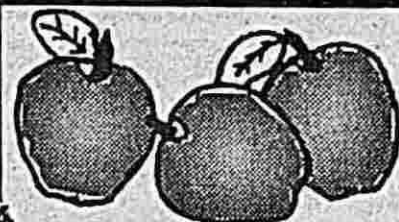

3. Don't eat any treats until you return home and have them carefully inspected.

4. Young children should always be accompanied by a parent or older sibling.

5. Observe all traffic rules. Only cross streets at intersections, and remember to look both ways before stepping off the curb.

6. Make sure drivers can see you by wearing a light-colored costume or by putting reflective tape or stickers on darker colors.

7. Don't limit your vision with a mask. Face paint is better, or a close fitting half-mask with large eye openings.

8. Try on your costume in advance to make sure you can move comfortably. Check to see if any part could drag on the ground.

9. There is no such thing as a harmless prank. Even though you may say "trick-or-treat," never play Halloween tricks.

10. Never trick-or-treat alone. There is safety in numbers, so take along several friends or family members.

11. Never ride your bike when you trick-or-treat. You may easily lose your balance or strike an object in the dark.

Trick or Treat Safely

HALLOWEEN IS A FUN TIME FOR KIDS AND PARENTS ALIKE. YOU CAN MAKE SURE IT'S A SAFE HALLOWEEN FOR YOUR CHILDREN BY REMEMBERING THESE SIMPLE SAFETY TIPS.

1. When walking from house to house, always stay in well-lit areas. Don't take shortcuts through alleys or people's yards.
2. Be sure to dress according to the weather conditions. And you may want to bring an umbrella in case of rain.
3. Ask your parents to check with the local hospital or health clinic about x-raying your candy.
4. Only take candy that has been individually wrapped. Avoid homemade treats unless you know the people giving it.
5. Remind your parents to slow down the car in residential areas and to watch for children!
6. Be sure your porch light is on when welcoming trick-or-treaters.
7. Help your parents prepare for trick-or-treaters by keeping dogs and cats away from the front door.
8. When you get home, don't eat all of your goodies at once. If you do you will probably get a stomach ache!

9. Look out for your friends and neighbors. If the need help or get lost, have them join your group.
10. Keep track of the time. You need to return home at the time set by your Mom and Dad.
11. Always take a flashlight along with you when you trick-or-treat. And be sure to test the batteries or get new ones before you head out.
12. Never light your Jack-O-Lantern without your parents' help. You may want to use small flashlights instead of candles.
13. Be careful around neighborhood pets such as dogs. Although they may know you, your costume might scare or confuse them.
14. Don't accept rides back home from people you don't know. Only ride with your parents or use arranged transportation.
15. Never ride your bike when you trick-or-treat. You may easily lose your balance or strike an object in the dark.
